Fight Promoter 'Bunked' In Plot To Show Films

Teachers Honor Dean of U. S. Educators on 90th Birthday

DR. CHARLES W. ELIOT as he is today and a photo of him taken when he first became president of Harvard in 1869. Educators of the country are doing honor today to Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard, and dean of American teachers. He is 90 years old today.

Dr. Charles W. Eliot of "the five-foot bookshelf" fame, president emeritus of Harvard university and dean of American educators, celebrated his 90th birthday today in his home at Cambridge, Mass.

The great teacher became president of Harvard in 1869. Customs in thought as well as dress have changed much since then, but this "grand old man" has been like a lighthouse on the stormy, rockbound coast, sending out a clear radiance through the darkness, that has guided over five decades of young men and women midway through the tortuous channel on whose right shore lay anarchy and on whose left lay stagnation.

The monumental influence of Dr. Eliot on the thought of the country and the world makes him certain of a great place in history. Meanwhile his place in elm-shaded Cambridge, beneath the shadow of the great university he has served for fifty-five years, is even more secure—and today the world, as Emerson said, beats a pathway to his door.

TEX RICKARD TELLS PACT TO SPLIT RECEIPTS

Paid for 'Influence' to Have Law Passed to Allow Pictures Displayed

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Tex Rickard, famous fight promoter, gambler and miner, who has chanced millions of dollars in sporting and mining ventures, told the Senate committee investigating Harry M. Daugherty today that he had been "bunked" in the conspiracy to show the Dempsey-Carpentier fight films.

For once in his life, Rickard admitted he fell for stories of supposed influence in Washington, and split the proceeds of the fight films with a trio of men who assured him they could get a law passed in Washington that would permit nation-wide exhibition of the films.

Row With Wheeler

"But I think I got bunked," said Rickard, naively. Rickard became embroiled in a row with Senator Wheeler within thirty minutes after taking the stand.

Wheeler accused him of "trying to hide behind the disabled soldiers" after Rickard said the films were first taken from New Jersey to New York to show the soldiers.

"Wait a minute," said Rickard, "let me tell my story."

Wheeler refused to listen, and an uproar ensued with both men

March Across Honduras as Call Comes for Aid To Amercians

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, March 20.—American Marines have been fired on in Honduras, the state department was advised this afternoon. The fire of the natives was not returned by the American forces and there were no casualties.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 20.—The American bluejackets who landed in Honduras and marched across country to the aid of the American embassy force in Tegucigalpa, which has been beleaguered there because of the revolution, have arrived safely, according to a dispatch to the state department today.

French to Elect New Deputies on May 11

PARIS, March 20.—The French cabinet today fixed May 11 as the date of the general election to choose a new Chamber of deputies.

POLL NOT COMPLETE

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Senator Ladd, Republican, North Dakota, chairman of the Senate oil investigating committee, announced today that he had yet to poll five members of the committee on the nomination of Samuel Knight of San Francisco as one of President Coolidge's special oil attorneys.

FLIERS REACH SEATTLE

Gaston Means Spills the Beans

GASTON B. MEANS in a talkative attitude. An interesting study of the former department of justice special agent, who shook Washington with his startling statements concerning graft and corruption. He is himself under indictment in New York state for alleged violation of federal statutes.

PAVING FOR CENTRAL IS PETITIONED

Improvement 66 Ft. Wide Is Sought; Proceedings of City Council

A petition carrying the signatures of fifty-nine per cent of the property holders on Central avenue between San Fernando road and Broadway was presented to the City Council this morning asking that the curb on each side of the road be set back to allow a roadway sixty-six feet between curbs, and that the entire street be paved with Warrenite paving.

The petition also covered sewer connections, water mains and the installation of an ornamental street lighting system.

Widening Broadway

While this was being discussed the matter of widening Broadway from Central to Pacific was again brought up, but the council declined to take any definite action on this pending the receipt of a recommendation from the city

RED AMBASSADOR MUST QUIT CHINA

Brusque Demand for Soviet Recognition Is Cause of Order to Leave

LONDON, March 20.—The Chinese government has ordered the Soviet representative, M. Karakhan, to leave the country as a result of the ultimatum served upon China by Soviet Russia demanding Chinese recognition within two days, said a Peking dispatch to the Daily Mail today.

A tense situation is developing between China and Russia. The Bolsheviki control Mongolia and fears are felt in Peking that Russia will invade Manchuria.

Russian officials claim that America prevented China from ratifying the recognition protocol.

REJECT ALAMEDA NAVAL BASE SITE

Committee In House Turns Down Offer by Vote Of 13 to 6

WASHINGTON, Mar. 20.—By a vote of 13 to 6 the House naval affairs committee today rejected the offer of a site for a naval base at Alameda, Calif. The vote came after extended hearings before the committee.

Those who voted for Alameda were: Britton, Illinois; Dyer, Pennsylvania; Swing, California; Miller, Washington; Drane, Florida; Patterson, New Jersey. Those voting against were: Buckley, Pennsylvania; Stephens, Nebraska; Burdick, Rhode Island; Andrews, Massachusetts; Matee, Pennsylvania; Vinson, Alabama; McClintock, Oklahoma; Woodriff, Michigan; Drury, Virginia; Logan, South Carolina; Sanders, Texas; Quayle, New York; Taylor, West Virginia.

Report Eighteen Men Alive In Sunken Ship

TOKIO, March 20.—Eighteen men are still alive in the Japanese submarine No. 43 which was sunk off Sasebo yesterday with forty-four men on board, according to information received here. Rescuers established communication with the survivors by telegraphic signals tapped on the shell of the submarine.

Centenarian Bobs Hair to Celebrate 100th Anniversary

MONTEBELLO, Cal., Mar. 20.—Hundreds of residents of Montebello joined today in the celebration of the one-hundredth birthday of Mrs. Elizabeth Goodrich.

Mrs. Goodrich, who wears her hair bobbed and is as lively as persons many years her junior, has three rules for reaching the century mark. They are:

Work hard outdoors.
Don't forget to play.
Never lose your temper.

DUFFEY AT HEAD OF IRISH FORCES

Free State Officials Split Over Attitude Toward Mutineers' Group

DUBLIN, March 20.—General Owen Duffey, former commander of the civilian guard, assumed complete control of the Free State army today, succeeding General Richard Mulcahy, who resigned yesterday. Mulcahy's duties as minister of defense in the Free State cabinet have been taken over by William T. Cosgrave.

A serious split has developed within the Free State government and leading officials who formerly opposed the "mutineer group" of army officers, are now sympathetic towards them.

Debate upon the dissensions in the army continue in the Dail Eireann, while the government investigates the grievances of the army group headed by Major-General Liam Tobin and Colonel Dalton.

CAPTURE BOOZE SHIP

KEY WEST, Fla., March 20.—A Cuban schooner, the Isabel, has been captured off the coast near Fort Myers, Fla., with a number of aliens aboard and a large shipment of liquors, according to wireless messages reaching here this afternoon.

WIN AGAINST HEAVY FOG IN SECOND ATTEMPT

Aviators Get Ovation as They Make Landing In Daring Journey

SEATTLE, March 20.—Three of the army round-the-world fliers arrived at Sand Point aviation field here at 12:50 this afternoon. The first plane to light was not one of the globe circling machines, but was an accompanying craft from Crissy field, California, piloted by Lieutenant Arnold, with C. E. Haldenman in the mechanic's seat.

A surprise was in store for Major F. L. Martin, flight commander, when classmates from Purdue university of the graduating class of 1908 surrounded his machine.

Fourth Pilot Leaves

EUGENE, Ore., March 20.—Lieutenant Erik Nelson left here in airplane No. 4 of the world flight trip at 11:26 a. m.

Lieutenant Nelson passed over Vancouver at 12:45 p. m. en route to Seattle.

Off for Seattle

VANCOUVER, Wash., March 20.—Hopping off on their second attempt to fly to Seattle, the three world-flight planes took the air here at 10:15 a. m. today and after circling the flying field headed north for Sand Point landing field.

Intermittent glimpses of sunshine prior to the take-off encouraged Major Frederick L. Martin, flight commander, to make the jump while favorable weather prevailed without waiting for the arrival of Lieutenant Erik H. Nel-

CHURCHILL LOSES PARLIAMENT RACE

Former Minister In British Cabinet Defeated by Tory Opponent

LONDON, March 20.—Otto Nicholson, a Tory, has been elected to the House of Commons in the Westminster district, defeating his three opponents, including former Minister Winston Spencer Churchill, it was announced this afternoon.

The Westminster by-election was held yesterday and a heavy vote was cast. Churchill ran upon an anti-labor platform.

Until the downfall of the Lloyd George government, Churchill was regarded as virtually a fixture in the cabinet and parliament. He had served as lord of the admiralty (head of the navy) and secretary of the colonies.

BLIZZARD SWEEPS CENTRAL STATES

Snow Hits Kansas, Illinois, Indiana and Missouri, Sleet Expected

ST. LOUIS, Mar. 20.—Eastern Kansas, Missouri, southern and central Illinois and eastern Indiana today were in the grip of a blinding snowstorm which swept in from the southwest this morning and which, according to the weather bureau here, carried a threat of sleet that may once more play havoc with telegraph and telephone communication in the middle west.

NAVY'S NEW HEAD LEAVES FOR POST

Wires President on Taking Oath of Office In San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, March 20.—Riding for the first time in a naval automobile, Secretary of the Navy Curtis D. Wilbur was taken to the train today on which he will travel to Washington to assume his new duties. It was furnished by the twelfth naval district.

The new head of the navy took the oath of office late yesterday in the supreme court room, whose bench he vacated as chief justice. His first official act was to write a telegram to President Coolidge notifying him that he had taken the oath of office.

WEEKS WILL TELL ARMS SHIPMENTS

War Secretary Directed to Furnish Senate With Mexican Data

WASHINGTON, Mar. 20.—Secretary of War Weeks was directed in a resolution by Senator Walsh, Democrat, of Montana, passed by the Senate today, to furnish complete information regarding the sale of arms and ammunition to Mexico.

The resolution particularly called upon Weeks to cite the "statutory authority by which he sold and delivered" the arms and ammunition.

SEEK RELEASE OF CONDEMNED BOY

Attorney Will File Writ of Habeas Corpus, Youth Ordered Hanged

SAN FRANCISCO, March 20.—A writ of habeas corpus, asking release from San Quentin prison of William Hard, California youth sentenced to be hanged on May 23, will be filed in the state supreme court tomorrow, according to O. V. Willson, Los Angeles attorney, who arrived here today to prepare papers in the proceedings.

Absolute freedom for the youth, convicted of first degree murder, will be asked by Attorney Willson, who declared that he would show that Hard was under 18 years of age, and could not be hanged and secondly that he was not within the jurisdiction of the court.

Willson said that if a stay of execution were granted and a new trial ordered for Hard, he would again ask the release of his client on the grounds that his life cannot be placed in jeopardy more than once.

COOLIDGE HEADS BOYS' WEEK MOVE

Lays Down Rules for Daily Conduct In Talk to Youths' Committee

WASHINGTON, March 20.—President Coolidge today accepted the honorary chairmanship of National Boys' Week, which is to be observed throughout the United States from April 27 to May 3.

The invitation was extended by William Lewis Butcher, of New York, who is leading the movement. Butcher called at the White House this afternoon, accompanied by several boys and in a brief speech the president told them there were only two rules for boys—"work hard and behave themselves."

COMISKEY RESTS AFTER OPERATION

Recovery of Chicago White Sox Owner Feared on Account of Age

CHICAGO, Mar. 20.—Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the Chicago White Sox, was reported resting comfortably at 10:30 today following an operation for gall stones earlier in the day.

The old Roman was on the operating table 45 minutes and within an hour had recovered from the effects of the anaesthetic and was rallying rapidly, physicians said. He is 65 years old and because of this and the fact that his health has been poor for months his friends had feared for the result of the operation.

Annual Jinx Day Friday At Glendale High School

Tomorrow the King of Carnival will hold court at both the Broadway and Harvard street plants of the Glendale Union High school. It is "Jinx Day" and teachers as well as students, in many instances, will come adorned in motley.

For years that go back beyond the memories of the students and tax the recollective faculties of the teachers, Jinx Day has been an annual spring event of importance at the G. U. H. S. To be exact, it was about seven years ago the custom started.

While the regular classroom routine will be maintained throughout the day, according to A. L. Ferguson, vice-principal, an effort will be made to wind things up a few minutes early, to give an opportunity for the jolly throngs to take snapshots and in other ways enjoy to the fullest their annual bizarre fiesta.

V. B. Stone Is Appointed Permanent City Manager

By the provisions of a resolution introduced by Councilman Sam Davis this morning, and adopted unanimously by the City Council, the appointment of V. B. Stone as city manager was made permanent.

Mr. Stone was temporarily chosen for this office two months ago, when W. H. Reeves resigned. His appointment caused a split in the council, Councilmen Hall and Horn voting against him. They explained that in their opinion the man to hold the position until a man was selected for the office should not be one of the candidates.

W. A. Horn has since resigned from the council. Councilman Hall voted in favor of the adoption of the resolution this morning.

Mr. Stone was for three years prior to his appointment right of way engineer for the city of Glendale.

LATEST NEWS

DRY WORKERS FIRED FOR DISHONESTY

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Nearly half of the 796 employes of the internal revenue bureau who have been discharged during the past three years for dishonesty were connected with the prohibition enforcement service, Charles R. Nash, assistant commissioner of internal revenue, testified this afternoon before a special Senate investigating committee.

JOHNSON MANAGER ADMITS COOLIDGE WINS

FARGO, N. D., March 20.—The Hiram Johnson headquarters here, in a formal statement issued at noon today, conceded the victory of President Coolidge in the North Dakota primaries. The latest tabulation of returns show that 1294 out of the 2058 precincts give: Coolidge 38,960; La Follette 23,696; Johnson 23,403.

TRACE POCKET KNIFE USED IN MURDER

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 20.—Dillard Devis, negro janitor at the "mystery house" in which pretty Dr. Zeo Zoe Wilkins was found slain last Tuesday night, owned the rusty pocket knife which was lying beside the mutilated body, police were told this afternoon. The information was regarded as the first tangible clue in the case which has mystified police for three days. Sam Russell, junk yard employe, who gave the information to the police, was brought to police headquarters for further questioning.

AIRPLANES TAXI GUESTS TO HOTELS

California Chain Inaugurates Sky Service for Rich Tourist Travel

SANTA BARBARA, March 19.—Aviation taxi service de luxe will be organized in the near future between D. M. Linnard hotels at Pasadena, Santa Barbara and San Francisco, it was anounced this morning by Manager Wallace Vail of Hotel Samarkand.

Santa Barbara will be the pivot point for the service. The aerial transportation "system" will be from the Maryland, Huntington and Vista del Arroyo hotels at Pasadena, north to Santa Barbara, and from the Fairmont and Whitcomb hotels at San Francisco south to this city. It is not yet decided whether or not there will also be "through" service.

Local Service, Also

Vail's plan, which already has received the endorsement of Linnard, is two-fold, for in addition to the aerial expresses, aero taxi service is also to be a permanent feature of the Samarkand. There is a landing field in process of construction next door to the hotel and arrangements have been made with Dave Matthews, local flyer and member of the Santa Barbara Aero club, to conduct the sky jaunts of local guests.

Several patrons of the Samarkand saw Santa Barbara and vicinity from the sky during the past week, inaugurating the new service. They "hop off" and land within a hundred feet of the door of the hotel.

Arrangements for landing fields in San Francisco and Pasadena are practically completed, Vail said, and it remains to be decided only what type planes will be used in the "through" service. There will be a fleet of at least four ships, according to Vail.

Claim School Pupils Are Undernourished

CHICAGO, Mar. 19.—Asserting that between 35 and 40 per cent of the children attending Chicago's public schools are undernourished, a committee from the Physicians' Fellowship club has taken steps by which it hopes to bring about the adoption of corrective measures for this condition.

"Conditions in the schools have reached a point which necessitates immediate action," Dr. Ritter, a member of the club, explained. "The physical and mental development of many children is being seriously retarded.

"Few parents know how to feed their children or care for their health. Education alone will eradicate this condition. Our plans will not conflict with any action now being contemplated by the board of education."

American Bible society distributed 2,395,000 copies last year.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Pretty Wedding

At one of the prettiest informal weddings of this season Miss Mary Edith Wells became the bride of Ralph Van Houten McKee, the ceremony taking place Tuesday, March 18, 1924, at 2 o'clock, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Ella Wells, 350 West Elk avenue. Rev. C. P. DuBois of the Second Presbyterian church of Los Angeles officiated.

Baskets of freesias of shades varying from white to rose, with delicate ferns and heather, were combined in lovely floral decorations. The wedding party stood beneath a canopy of green, and a beautiful wedding bell covered with bridal wreath.

Before the bridal party entered, "O, Promise Me" was sung by Miss Lillian Criswell, with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Wilbert Warriner.

The bride wore a gown of apricot georgette with bead trimming, a bandeau of orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of tea roses.

The maid of honor, Miss Hazel Jacquiss, wore green taffeta.

Harold Wells, brother of the bride, was best man.

The bride's mother wore a handsome gown of blue and grey, and the groom's mother a very becoming brown.

Following the ceremony light refreshments were served, a pink and white color scheme being carried out in the appointments, single orange blossoms giving a bridal touch to the dainty menu.

The young couple left immediately by motor for a tour through the north. After their return they will be at home for the present at 350 West Elk avenue, and expect to make their home in Glendale.

Mrs. McKee has a large circle of friends in the city, where she has made her home for some time. Mr. McKee, who recently moved here from Serra Madre, is manager for this territory for the Triangle Oil company. He is a brother of Edward, C. S. and Norman R. McKee, well-known business men of the city.

Those present at the ceremony were Mrs. Laura McKee, Mrs. Ella Wells, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. McKee, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton S. McKee, Mr. and Mrs. Edward McKee and daughters, Mrs. Wilbert M. Warriner, Mrs. Oliver Lentz and daughter, Misses Bell Jaquiss, Hazel Jaquiss, Lillian Criswell, Myrtle Masterman, Mr. and Mrs. John Usilton, Mrs. Olive Kee, Mrs. Quentin Bertin, Mrs. Harry Kee, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Wells, Mrs. J. A. Dunn, Rev. and Mrs. C P DuBois, Clarence Beckwer.

Birthday Affair

To assist in the celebration of her husband's birthday anniversary, Mrs. R. A. Holmes invited a coterie of congenial friends to their home 604 West Wilson avenue, Tuesday evening.

St. Patrick motifs were artistically carried out in the decorations. Green and white flowers attractively arranged were used in profusion. The refreshment table appointments were also carried out in the same color scheme.

During the evening Dr. Holmes was presented with a beautiful bath robe from the guests present and was also the recieient of a number of other lovely gifts.

The diversion of the evening was five-hundred. Later in the evening refreshments of ice cream with a green shamrock moulded in the center was served with the birthday cake.

The invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. John Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Brown, and Fred Brown, Jr., Mrs. Fay Brown, Miss Ruth Randell, Johnny Powell, Worth Alexander of Glendale and Peter MaMahon of Boston, Mass., E. J. Couch of Hollywood and Miss Bertha Wicke of New York City and the honoree Dr. R. A. Holmes and Mrs. Holmes.

Couple Honored

Mr. and Mrs. James F. McBryde were hosts Tuesday night at their home, 108 East California avenue, at a smart dinner party, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Eugene J. Wix, who were recently married.

Early spring blossoms in pink and white were used in decorating the dinner table. Each guest was presented with a clever comical favor, tied with dainty pink ribbons. Place cards, bonbon baskets and other table appointments were also carried out in a pink and white color scheme.

After dinner an informal social evening and a radio concert was enjoyed.

Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Eugene J. Wix, Dr. and Mrs. E. T. Remmen, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Smithe and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. James F. McBryde.

Law Club Meets

The Parliamentary Law club of Glendale, of which Mrs. Harry Greenwalt is president, will meet Friday at 12:30 o'clock in the rooms of the Public Library on Harvard street. The study for the day will be on the subject of "Recommendation."

Mrs. R. N. Stryker will give a two-minute talk on "Organization."

Officers Chosen

At the meeting yesterday of the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle, officers for the coming year were elected as follows: Chairman, Mrs. H. V. Henry; first vice chairman, Mrs. C. H. Crawford, second vice chairman, Mrs. E. B. Moore; social secretary, Mrs. D. F. McCormick; advertising and press chairman, Mrs. Charles H. Bird; assistant press chairman, Mrs. C. L. Viereck; purchasing agent, Mrs. Marshall; treasurer, Mrs. McLean; secretary and recorder, Mrs. Florence Wintersgill; auditor, Mrs. A. H. Brown.

The following committees were appointed also: Follow-up committee, Mesdames G. W. Campbell, Shinner; hospitality committee, Mesdames A. M. Rowe, Hensel, L. H. Van Hoorebeke, C. M. Taylor, Mae Rosenberg; chairman of current educational trend, Mrs. E. G. Pomeroy.

In addition to the election of officers a number of important business matters were discussed and important announcements made. One of the most important being that of the third lecture in the course on "Child Training," which will be given by Miss Madeline Veverka. The subject of this lecture will be "The Pre-School Age." Miss Veverka has a splendid reputation as a teacher and speaker and has a message of great value to mothers of children of all ages. It is hoped a large audience of Glendale mothers will attend this lecture, which will be held in the auditorium at 323 North Brand boulevard on Friday, March 21, at 10 o'clock. Tickets are 25 cents and may be secured at the door.

Mrs. H. V. Henry, presiding officer, read a letter received recently from John Steven McGroarty enclosing a certificate of membership in the Mission Play Foundation and thanking the Reading Circle for their interest and co-operation.

An invitation has been received by the Circle to send a representative to the opening of the new Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital which will take place Sunday, March 23. Accordingly, Mrs. Maranville was appointed to represent the Circle.

The review on "Teach Us to Read" was given by Mrs. Mae Rosenberg. The article, which is by Cora Wilson Stewart, deals with the efforts of the different states to overcome illiteracy among the adults.

This was followed by a general discussion of the department of education in the National government, the naturalization of the American Indians.

Mrs. E. G. Pomeroy gave a brief talk relative to the round table conducted on reading circle work at the Grand View Parent-Teacher association meeting by Mrs. H. V. Henry, Mrs. Pomeroy and Mrs. F. L. Wintersgill.

During the noon hour a sale of plants and bulbs was held and will be continued next week, it was announced.

As the new year of the Reading Circle begins it was urged upon the members to impress the women of Glendale that there is a circle here which is open to all. The Circle meets every Wednesday morning at the Glendale Public library at 11 o'clock and every Glendale woman is extended a cordial invitation to attend and take an active part in the study of scientific and practical training of children.

The Glendale Reading Circle is known throughout the United States, as it was the first and the most flourishing one, as is evinced by the large number in attendance at each meeting.

Son's Birthday

Eugene I. Baldwin, Jr., was honored at a delightful affair yesterday afternoon, when his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene I. Baldwin, entertained with a party in the celebration of his eleventh birthday anniversary, at their home, 559 West Harvard street.

Baskets of pink and white sweetpeas attractively arranged were used in decoration. Pink streamers reaching from the corners of the room and fastened to the chandelier in the center from which was suspended a shower of pink roses formed an artistic canopy effect. The lights were shaded with delicate pink shades casting a soft glow over the refreshment table, which was also decorated in pink and white color scheme. Bonbon baskets and favors in pink marked the guests' places. A beautifully decorated birthday cake with pink roses and candles formed the centerpiece for the table.

During the afternoon games were played, including the game of pinning the tail on the donkey, for which Lawrence Williams was awarded first prize and George Bell the booby prize.

The guests included Katherine Bell, Ella Barber, Elvira Harrington, Eline Champion, Pauline Zehring, Dorothy Johnson and little Lorraine Baldwin, 16-months-old sister of the honoree, and Harry Lambert, Kenneth Staub, George Bell, Lawrence Williams, Jack Bell, Albert Harrington and Mrs. Rose Z. Pillsbury and W. A. Baldwin of Los Angeles, grandparents of the honoree; Mrs. J. P. Huffsmith of San Diego and Mrs. Paul Zehring of Glendale.

The guest of honor was the recipient of many lovely gifts from relatives and friends.

Elect Officers

Annual election of officers will be the main interest tomorrow of the all-day meeting of the W. C. T. U., at the home of Mrs. C. W. Ingledue, at the corner of North Jackson street and East Wilson avenue.

The morning meeting will begin at 10 o'clock, with Mrs. Ruby J. Smart, president, presiding.

All those attending are to bring lunches and cups and spoons.

Los Angeles Guests

Members of Chapter AH, P. E. O., were entertained yesterday at the home of Mrs. Henry P. Goodwin, 833 South Plymouth avenue, Los Angeles.

Baskets of spring flowers in soft shades of many hues were employed in the decorations. The luncheon table decorations were carried out in the pastel shades.

After luncheon a short business session was held, presided over by the vice-president, Mrs. W. W. Worley, followed by a pleasing musical program. Musical numbers were given by Mrs. H. J. Williams, Mrs. Wayne Smith and Mrs. R. W. Carmack.

The members had the pleasure of entertaining three visitors, Mrs Garner of Chapter DV, Iowa Falls; Mrs. Goodwin of Chapter BN, Los Angeles and Mrs. H. Stamps of Chapter BA, Glendale.

P. E. O. Meeting

The recently organized P. E. O. chapter, DJ, was entertained at the home of Mrs. Schenck, 326 Oak street, yesterday afternoon. A short business session was held, with Mrs. Anna Danielson in the chair. Mrs. Frank Parr read a paper of much interest to members of the organization, her subject being "Our Vows."

An invitation was accepted to be the guests of Chapter CJ on April 3, at the home of Mrs. Roy Kent. The next meeting of the chapter will be at the home of Mrs. H. C. Jaacks, 404 South Glendale avenue, with luncheon at 12:30 o'clock.

Birthday Party

Everett McClellan was happily surprised at a party given last Tuesday night by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. McClellan, at their home, 630 West Wilson avenue, in the celebration of his birthday anniversary.

St. Patrick's green and favors were used in the decorations. Arrangements of green carnations were used in profusion. The refreshment table decorations were also carried out in the same color scheme with a beautiful birthday cake, lighted with green candles, forming the centerpiece.

Games were played, and later in the evening refreshments were served.

Those present included Virginia Endicott, Geraldine Keleher, Barbara Worth, Gertrude Sooy, Harry Conover and George Ward and the honoree, Everet McClellan.

Meeting Friday

The Pythian Sisters will meet Friday night, March 21, in the Knights of Pythias hall, Park avenue and Brand boulevard, at 8 o'clock, for their regular meeting, it is announced.

A number of members will be initiated, and all members are urged to be present. A cordial invitation is extended to all visiting Sisters to attend.

LEGEND IN INDIA HAS COME TRUE

Railroads Were Poles of Metal Bringing Book of Knowledge

HOLLYWOOD, March 20.—In the hills above Kentung, India, there is a legend come down from the mists of dead centuries, that on a day men would erect poles of metal through the hills, and then a white man would come bearing the "book of knoweldge."

Great Britain, a couple of decades ago, traced her "poles of metal" across this far north section of her Indian dominion. The same year, a missionary penetrated to this outpost, 300 miles from a railroad, and bore to the hill tribes a "book of knowledge." His mission was taken over by the Rev. J. F. Telford and his wife seven years ago. And this missionary, with Mrs. Telford and "the boys," were the guests this week of Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Palmer.

Relates Experiences

Mrs. Telford relates bits of experience there that are breathtaking. The luxurious life of foreign missionaries, with their staffs of native servants, is a familiar story. Skeptical critics tell it frequently. But the slender and pale little gentlewoman who is a Hollywood guest, belongs to another story. She tells of a crude home; three weeks' journey by oxcart from the railroad—travel by night because of tigers—aching and jolted bones that change to horseback and back again to cart, in vain seeking rest. Of a village where nine to ten races live, each with distinct languages and customs. Of a house without running water—a deep well to draw from, and wood to split for cooking stoves—and natives of uncertain ability to help in the work. She tells of a diet of vegetables and chicken—much and always chicken! Of "beef" once in awhile when a tired ox passes on to its rest, and is thriftily carved up for the chef. Of "lamb" that is of the mountain goat, muscular, razor-back variety, warranted to wear well.

Mrs. Telford refers casually to being 1000 miles from the coast, with only one missionary station farther north than theirs, toward the frontier of China, where the most prolific exportation was brigands! And of her husband trips to the jungle for weeks at a time, leaving her to hold the fort alone.

Picturesque contrast is given in the splendor of the native crown prince, "San Kawng Tai," and his wife, for whom he will only have Caucasian customs and cars when the stork pays a visit. The "Sawbaw," his father, lives in royal state, with 100 elephants valued at $300 for each foot in height—and each elephant ten feet tall.

Because of the English physician attached to the mission, the local royalties are civil, having a wholesome respect for his knowledge. The younger princes have already had two years' education in an English college, all of which helps.

Artists' Section

The artists' section of the Glendale Music club, of which Miss Gertrude Cleophas is chairman, will meet Friday, March 21, at the home of Mrs. Nathan Rigdon, 224 West Doran street, at 8 o'clock, it is announced.

A Beethoven program will be presented at this time, which will include a paper by Mrs. Evelyn Labadie of the Emerson School of Self Expression; violin selections by Miss Evangeline Quackenbush and Miss Clara A. Wolter will render piano selections.

SAYS WOMAN HAS UNEQUAL CHANCES

Discriminatory Laws Are Pointed Out by National Leader

COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 20.—Asserting that "the position of women has changed," Miss Mabel Vernon, executive secretary of the National Woman's party, addressing a local audience, said that "archaic laws remain."

"Existing in every state are discriminations against women which belong to a period long since past, when marriage meant the 'suspension of the very being or legal existence, of women,' declared Miss Vernon.

"In practically every state services of the wife belong to the husband. As a result, the husband, not the wife, is the one entitled to sue for damages in case of injury to the wife. In some states the earnings of a married woman, though the work of her own hands, belong to her husband. In other states a married woman must go through a complicated court procedure to 'determine her capacity' to carry on a business of her own.

"As mothers, women suffer from equally incomprehensible discriminations in the laws. In several states the father is the 'sole natural guardian' of minor children. In Maryland and Georgia it is legally possible for the father to will away the custody of a child from its own mother. The law gives the father greater rights than the mother over the legitimate child; but, in the case of the illegitimate child, practically all states leave the father in the background and put the weight of responsibility on the mother.

"The Woman's Party is striving to remove every artificial handicap placed upon women by law and by custom," said Miss Vernon. "A national amendment is more inclusive and more permanent than state legislation."

ITALY BIDS WITH BRITAIN FOR RUSSIAN TRADE

Mussolini Arranges Satisfactory Commercial Compact

Mussolini, Fascisti premier and dictator of Italy, signing the Italo-Russian commercial treaty with the Russian delegate, M. Jordanski (on Mussolini's right) and Senator Contarini (on his left), secretary general of the Italian ministry of foreign affairs.

Mussolini's diplomacy is spreading far afield. As a result of a commercial treaty he signed with Soviet Russia, Italy is now bidding for Russian trade with Great Britain, Sweden, Poland, Germany and other countries that have recognized the new regime.

The move is considered in Europe as significant indication of the new continental attitude toward the former Czarist empire, because Mussolini won his way to premier by battling Red elements seeking to gain control of the government of Italy.

OLD WELL FAILS TO YIELD GHOST

Ancient Essex Tradition Is Blasted, But Antiques Are Unearthed

By LUTHER A. HUSTON,
For International News Service

LONDON, March 20.—Vandal spades, probing the historic soil of Essex, apparently have shattered a legend that has been handed down from mediaeval times to dwellers at Barnet.

The legend concerned a chest of gold and precious jewels and the ghost of Geoffrey de Mandeville, Earl of Essex, who lived in the twelfth century. The treasure-chest, according to the story, was buried at the bottom of an old well in Camlet Moat, Trent Park, Barnet. The ghost of Geoffrey de Mandeville, the story ran, has guarded the chest through the centuries.

In the year 1130 Geoffrey de Mandeville was Constable of the Tower of London. He was false to his trust, history alleges, and was attainted for high treason to King Stephen and Queen Matilda. He fled to Trent Park and lay hidden for many months. One night as he was trying to escape he stumbled into a well in a corner of Camlet Moat and perished. Since then, the country folk declare, he has guarded the gold and jewels the well was reputed to contain.

Investigate Legend

Sir Philip Sassoon, one of the wealthiest young knight of England, recently acquiring the Trent Park estate, containing Camlet Moat, which surrounded the ancient Manor House of Enfield, the former seat of the Earls of Essex. The manor house, however, was demolished centuries ago. The legend was told to Sir Philip, however, and he determined to investigate.

Excavators were put at work, and they dug for months in the ancient moat. They failed, however, to unearth the treasure chest.

"We reached the foundations of the well at a depth of seventy feet," Sir Philip said, "but there was no sign either of the ghost or the treasure. Both—if they ever existed—have mysteriously disappeared."

The work of the excavators did not go for naught, however, for many valuable historical relics were discovered buried in the ancient moat. The foundations of the original manor house were uncovered, and the drawbridge which spanned the moat was revealed. The drawbridge, with chains complete, is thirty-eight feet long, seventeen feet wide on the inner side and eight feet six inches wide on the outer side. Its timbers, all of oak and a foot square, are excellently preserved.

Find Other Curios

In addition to these discoveries, the excavators also brought to light a dagger mounted in gold, some Roman sandals, curious horseshoes and many very old tiles bearing quaint designs.

These discoveries are of great interest to English historians, as Enfield Manor was rich in the political and social legend of the nation. Dick Turpin is said to have used the manor as a hiding place, and Sir Walter Scott immortalized it by laying there the scene of the murder of Dalgarno in "The Fortunes of Nigel."

Although his digging crew failed to find the legendary chest, Sir Philip has not lost faith entirely and plans to resume excavations in the Spring. Some thrust of a spade may yet unearth the treasure or some other relic of material or historical value.

Blame Speculator for Textile Price Jumps

LONDON, Mar. 20.—Gambling on the cotton and wool exchange is said to be responsible for the rapid rise in price of clothes and other articles made out of cotton and wool in England.

Many cotton fabrics have risen 20 per cent in the last few months, while wool has risen from 60 to 70 per cent in a year. Further jumps are predicted in the fall.

Among the foolish expressions may be placed: "I let my wife have her own way."—Pana Palladium.

LIFE AND DEATH THEORY ADVANCED

Milwaukee Scientist Says Suction and Pressure Ruling Factors

CHICAGO, March 20.—Another key to the realms of immortality and a solution to the infinite mystery of life and death has been offered her by Alfred W. Lawson, of Milwaukee, scientist and inventor, after a series of physical experiments.

Lawson's theories take no account of disease, except as an inconsequential factor, in the ending of life. Death, he claims, is all a result of the victory of "pressure" over "suction." Could some method be found to equalize these two, Lawson claims, there is no reason why man could not live indefinitely.

"Suction and pressure," according to Lawson, who built the passenger airliner which made the trip from Milwaukee to New York and back in 1919, "are the basis of life; without them man cannot live. The suction of air into the lungs causes man to live by enabling him to overcome the pressure from without. Pressure is the destroying element, suction the one that builds up.

"Through childhood the power of suction is the stronger, and this remains true up to maturity, when the two, suction and pressure, are equalized. Then gradually the pressure from without takes the lead and eventually destroys the power of suction. Then death occurs."

Lawson goes further in his "suction-pressure" theory by tracing it back to "penetrability," which, he claims, is the basic law of movement. That is, according to Lawson, something must penetrate something else before there is any movement.

"The act of penetration," Mr. Lawson said, "as man penetrating the air, a fish penetrating the water, causes suction which moves everything with it. Scientists claim the cause of movement is vibration; but I claim vibration is only a minor factor resulting from penetrability."

Persia to Give Rare Turquoise to Chicago

CHICAGO, March 20.—The largest, purest and most valuable turquoise in existence is to be presented to the Field Museum here by His Excellency Hayozoun Hohannes Topakyan, Grand Vizier of Persia. Announcement of the proposed gift was made by the Vizier during a visit here.

Presentation Of Oratorio 'Elijah' Represents Stupendous Undertaking

MEMBERS OF ALL MUSIC CLUBS TO SING IN CHORUS

Glendale Singers Lend Aid To Make Performance Assured Success

The proportions of the praiseworthy project under way by the Glendale Music club, of the production next Tuesday night in the Broadway High school auditorium of Mendelssohn's oratorio "Elijah," is more than a gigantic task if the earnest work of the singers and their director, John Smallman, and the detailed plans and work of club officers and assistants are taken into consideration.

Added to these is the loyal support Glendale individuals and organizations are giving the project, which is one that will bring national recognition to Glendale, already known far and wide for her musical talent and accomplishments.

Augmented Chorus

There will be a chorus of 150 voices under the direction of Mr. Smallman next Tuesday night, sixty-five of them being from his choral organization in Los Angeles. The Glendale singers taking part represent the Glendale Music club, Madrigal club, Choral club and other organizations in the city.

Mrs. Florence Hoover Rogers is the accompanist for the oratorio section of the Music club, and in addition to her piano work there will be the Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra of selected pieces.

In preparing the high school auditorium for the production special raisers have had to be placed on the stage, and since Glendale could not furnish these raisers it was necessary to send to Santa Monica for them.

Final Rehearsal

The final rehearsal will be held at 1:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the high school auditorium. Mr. Smallman asks that all intending to take part Tuesday evening be present. Mrs. Jones also asks that full returns from tickets are desired on Sunday.

It is necessary that $600 be in the hands of the club treasurer before the doors open Tuesday night. The ticket sale has been most gratifying, with the largest subscribers being: Dr. Henry Harrower, $25; Mrs. Ella Richardson, $25; W. E. Hewitt, $25; George Bentley, $25; E. C. Pendroy, $25; Miss Myrtle Baldwin, $20.

Call Al Jennings To Reveal Hamon's Proposal to Wood

WASHINGTON, March 20.—"Al" Jennings, former Oklahoma bad man, bandit and train robber, was subpoenaed by Senator Thomas Walsh this afternoon. Jennings will be questioned in connection with the story that the late Jake Hamon offered a consideration to Leonard Wood in the 1920 convention.

A return has been received on Sinclair's subpoena, assuring his appearance before the committee tomorrow.

Refuse Permission To Senate Probers To Examine Books

WASHINGTON, Mar. 20.—Mel Daugherty, brother of Attorney-General Harry M. Daugherty, and president of the Midland National bank at Washington Courthouse, O., where "large eastern money" was supposed to have been deposited by Jesse W. Smith, has refused to allow the auditor for the Daugherty investigating committee to remove the books from the bank, it was announced here today by Senator Wheeler, Democrat, of Montana.

Wheeler demanded that the subpoena issued by the committee be enforced but the committee postponed decision.

SCHOOL BOARD'S ELECTION MAR. 28

Three Candidates for Two Vacancies as Trustees Of Union High

Election to fill two vacancies on the Board of Trustees of the Glendale Union High school takes place on Friday, March 28. There are three candidates, George H. Bentley, Dr. Harry V. Brown and Alexander Mitchell. Of these, Dr. Brown is a candidate for re-election. Following will be found brief "histories" of the three candidates:

George H. Bentley

George H. Bentley, secretary-treasurer of the Bentley Lumber company, has been prominent in Glendale for ten years, coming here in 1914, on October 4 of that year marrying Miss Louise Walley of Long Beach. They have four children: Two boys, Howard, aged 11, and Wayne, aged 3; and two girls, Helen, aged 8, and Lois, aged 6. They recently moved into their new home at 1544 Virginia avenue.

Mr. Bentley is a trustee of the First Baptist church, a director of the Community Savings and Commercial bank, a member of the Glendale lodge of Elks, Glendale Shrine club, Glendale Rotary club, Unity lodge, No. 368, F. and A. M., Glendale commandery No. 53, Glendale Chamber of Commerce, Knights Templar, Al Malaikah Shrine, L. A., and Oakmont Country club.

Dr. Harry V. Brown

Dr. Harry V. Brown, Glendale physician and incumbent, is a trustee of the Glendale Union High school board of trustees, has been a resident of this city since the fall of 1917, coming in that year from Los Angeles, where he had previously engaged in the practice of medicine.

Dr. Brown is a native of Charlton, Iowa, and has three children: Agnes, aged 21; Bertha, aged 18, and Elizabeth, aged 14. Their present home is at 118 West Wilson avenue.

Active in every phase of Glendale life, Dr. Brown is a member of the American Legion, Elks' lodge, has Masonic affiliations and is a member of the First Methodist Episcopal church, Glendale Physicians' club, Glendale Credit association and Chamber of Commerce.

Alexander Mitchell

Alexander Mitchell has been a leader in Glendale business and social life since 1900, when with Mrs. Mitchell he came from Chicago. For two terms, 1912 to 1920, he served as receiver of the United States land office, under appointment of Woodrow Wilson, with offices in Los Angeles. For the past few years he has devoted his attention to investments.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Mitchell have four children, all grown: Miss Lorraine Mitchell, principal of the Columbus avenue school; Miss Barbara Mitchell, George and Gilbert Mitchell. The family home is located at 1549 Ben Lomond drive, at the corner of Kenneth road.

Mr. Mitchell is president of the Glendale Foothill Improvement association, was for one year president of the Fraternal Brotherhood, when they had a local chapter, and is a member of the grand lodge of Elks, being the first exalted ruler of the Salt Lake lodge, has Masonic affiliations and is a member of the Chamber of Commerce.

Oakland Radio Heard on South Sea Island

OAKLAND, Cal., March 20.—Major General George S. Richardson, administrator of Western Samoa, in a letter to KGO here, reports that he listened to the entire program as the guest of Quincy F. Roberts, American consul at Apia, British Samoa, on January 12.

The entire program came in so clearly 5000 miles from the sending station that "Vailima," the old home of Robert Louis Stevenson, now the residence of Major-General Richardson, has been named a "listening station" of KGO. The governor has become a radio fan and will equip his residence with a radio set.

Thirst quenchers for hot weather should comprise such drinks as lemonade, limeade, carbonated water and the like, rather than sweet drinks, says an eminent Eastern doctor.

FINAL TRIBUTE AT FUNERAL OF MRS. W. B. KIRK

Impressive Services Take Place Here Today for Beloved Woman

Memorial services for Mattie L. Kirk, wife of W. B. Kirk, whose death occurred last Saturday in New York city, where she and her family were resting from nine months of travel abroad, were held at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the Central Christian church at the corner of South Louise and East Colorado streets.

As well known residents of Glendale and prominent members of the Central Christian church, the Kirk family have hosts of friends in Glendale as well as in other Southern California cities, and this afternoon a large company of them greeted Mr. Kirk and his daughter, Miss Agnes Marie, not with the happiness that had long been anticipated during their absence abroad, but in mutual sorrow and sincere sympathy in the loss of Mrs. Kirk, who did not return home alive.

Rev. Cole in Charge

Rev. Clifford A. Cole, pastor of the church and a close friend of the Kirk family, conducted the funeral services. His scriptural text was from the eleventh chapter of Hebrews, the sixteenth verse, "But now they desire a better country, that is, a heavenly; wherefore God is not ashamed to be called their God; for He hath prepared for them a city."

He eulogized the Christian life and character of the deceased and told of her wonderful influence as a wife, a mother and a friend.

Following this a sketch of her life was given. Mattie L. Ragland was born in Lebanon, Tennessee, 63 years ago. When she was a small girl her family moved to Waco, Texas, where her father was engaged in the jewelry business. It was in Texas that she and Mr. Kirk were married.

Active in Church

For many years the Kirks lived in Lincoln, Neb., and 15 years ago came to California, residing on East Broadway, Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. Kirk took active parts in social and church affairs, both in Nebraska and in Glendale. They were active in affairs of their church and Mrs. Kirk's name is prominent in the development of the city of Glendale.

Mrs. Kirk had never had robust health and this kept her from taking any active interest in many causes near to her heart. Early last year she was sick for a time and their European trip was delayed several months because it was necessary for her to undergo an operation. But she anticipated the journey keenly and enjoyed their travels abroad with her husband and daughter.

Beautiful Music

Music at the services was beautifully given by Mrs. Floyd Mercer, vocalist and Mrs. M. G. Musser, pianist.

Three favorite songs of the deceased were beautifully sung by Mrs. Mercer, accompanied by Mrs. Musser. She sang "Mighty Rock Whose Towering Form," "Home of the Soul" and "Face to Face."

The prayer was given by Rev. Cole.

Relatives present were W. B. Kirk and daughter, Miss Agnes Marie Kirk; Mrs. Kirk's brother, C. E. Ragland of Los Angeles, and other relatives from Hollywood.

Mrs. Kirl's other two brothers, Dr. W. B. Ragland of Waco, Texas, and Oscar Ragland of Atlanta, Georgia, were unable to make the trip to California for the services.

Act as Pallbearers

Pallbearers were business associates and church friends of Mr. and Mrs. Kirk. Walter E. Vail, manager, L. J. McConnell and Frank Westcott, of the Provident Mutual Life Insurance company, Los Angeles, with which Mr. Kirk is affiliated, and O. L. Zook, J. D. Cole and Floyd Mercer of Glendale were the pallbearers.

The floral tributes were many and beautiful. Among the larger pieces were those from the Provident Mutual Life Insurance company, the Central Christian church and The Glendale Evening News.

Following the service at the church Mrs. Kirk's body was placed in a vault in Forest Lawn Memorial park, pending permanent interment in a crypt in the mausoleum.

The L. G. Scovern Undertaking company was in charge of the services.

Fractious Goat Gets Police Reserves Out

PHILADELPHIA, March 20.—"Bill," a noted vagabond, of the Germantown district, always looked upon as inoffensive, recently provided several minutes of real excitement. One day "Bill" started on a rampage and had wrecked much valuable furniture in the home of Mrs. B. Franklin Pepper by the time the police reserves arrived. Refusing to submit to arrest, "Bill" dove into the solar plexus of Patrolman Krom, knocking him down, and then put other officers to flight. However, one exceptionally agile officer captured "Bill" with a flying jiujitsu. Now there's one less goat in Germantown.

Pop, similar to that of this country and with flavors mostly from here, is taking the place of the intoxicating mescal, or tequila, in Central Mexico.

Talented Glendale Players Present Comedy Drama In School Auditorium

Glendalians who will appear tonight and tomorrow night in the production of the comedy drama "Mice and Men" in the auditorium of the Harvard High school. Reading from left to right are Mrs. Charles Hatz as Molly; Wesley Pomeroy as Peter; Mrs. Ernest Tucker as Mrs. Deborah; Miss Faith Kennedy as a foundling; Mrs. L. S. Smith as matron of the foundling hospital; Miss Dorothy McPherson, another foundling; Paul Morgan as Capt. Lovell; A. J. VanWie as Kit Barniger, the fiddler; Edgar Shockley as Mr. Goodlake; Mrs. T. C. Young as Mrs. Goodlake; Robert Keltner as the beadle of the foundling hospital; J. B. Clark as Mark Embury; and Mrs. Dorothy Morton Hastings as Peggy.

Glendale is to have a glimpse of the dramatic talent that is hers tonight, when the Little Theatre Players of the drama department of Community Service, present "Mice and Men" in the auditorium of the Harvard High school. A second performance will be given tomorrow night.

Mrs. Max Lynn Green, chairman of the department, secured the services of Granville Sturgis as coach, and he has proven most efficient in his work with the cast.

Comedy Drama

"Mice and Men" is a comedy drama in four acts by Madeline Ryley, the setting being an English country home at the time of the American revolution.

The cast was picked with much care by Mr. Sturgis and he has had splendid material to work with.

Following the play there will be a social hour with Mrs. A. L. Baird and Mrs. Green, assisted by members of the cast and assisting committees serving punch.

Decorate Stage

Special stage settings were being installed on the school stage today and all is in readiness for the first appearance of the Little Theatre Players tonight.

Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, who is in charge of the tickets, announces as additional sponsors Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Toll, Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Kent, Mrs. Malvern Barker, Mrs. Roy Ballagh, Dr. and Mrs. H. K. Morgan of Los Angeles.

ASSURE COOLIDGE OF NORTH DAKOTA

President Leads La Follette By Big Majority as Returns Come In

FARGO, N. D., Mar. 20.—With more than half the state's precincts reporting, President Coolidge had increased his lead in the presidential preferential primary today. Senator La Follette, run as a surprise candidate, was showing increased strength from the rural districts, where the non-partisan vote was heavy. He was evening up with Senator Hiram Johnson.

Of the 2,058 precincts, all but 860 had reported, giving Coolidge 35,000; Johnson 21,000, and La Follette 21,000.

McAdoo Beats Underwood

ATLANTA, Ga., Mar. 20.—With unofficial returns giving William Gibbs McAdoo a 4 to 1 victory over Senator Oscar W. Underwood, his only opponent, in the state Democratic presidential preference primary, it was conceded today that Georgia's twenty-eight votes will be pledged to McAdoo at the national convention.

DAUGHERTY DEALT IN SINCLAIR OIL

Accountant Shows Attorney General Traded In 500 Shares of Stock

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Delving deeper into the oil stock transactions of cabinet members and other government officials, the Senate public lands committee learned today that Attorney-General Daugherty sold and bought 500 shares of Sinclair oil stock and that the stock dealings of the late Jesse W. Smith, who committed suicide in Daugherty's apartment, netted him a profit of $1,531 over a period of several months.

This testimony was placed before the committee by Lewis D. Bond, an accountant who has been examining the books of Washington stock brokers.

Failed to Appear

G. D. Wahlberg, former secretary to Harry F. Sinclair, failed to appear today in answer to the committee's subpoena.

It was later learned that he had gone to Havana, Cuba, for his health. The committee has no authority to subpoena him from there.

The committee now plans to adjourn after Saturday and begin formal preparation of its report to the Senate, Walsh announced.

Travel Tales In The News Create Desire for Trip

The Glendale Evening News offiee is constantly receiving expressions of pleasure from readers who have followed with interest W. B. Kirk's trip abroad through his letters published in The News.

One reader has been so interested in the Kirk letters that he has decided to take a foreign journey himself and has secured the services of J. M. Powers, owner of the Atlas Steamship agency at 119 East Broadway, to map cut an itinerary such as Mr. Kirk took.

Germans Route Goods To Avoid Heavy Duty

LONDON, March 20.—German merchants have discovered an ingenious way to evade the reparations levy on goods exported from Germany.

They now send their goods to England via Ireland. As the exports levy is not chargeable on goods entering the Irish Free State the goods can be re-exported to England without the German merchant becoming liable for the 26 per cent reparations tax on all goods leaving Germany.

British officials are attempting to combat that evasion by demanding a certificate of the country of origin of the goods before admitting them to Britain. They contend that a temporary deposit in Ireland does not make the goods of any less German origin, and they are therefore liable for the reparations tax.

The question has now become a battle of wits between the British customs and Irish trans-shippers, but all the ports of England and Scotland in the west are being closely watched and all goods arriving from Ireland are subjected to the closest scrutiny in order to ascertain whether they originally emanated from Ireland.

Calf Picks Parlor As Place to Sleep

WINDHAM, Va., March 20.—Cattle in this town like comfort and seek rest in the parlors of their owners when they are not looking. Mrs. H. E. Rhoades and her daughter, Nettie, were out watering the cows in the absence of the men members of the household and missed a cow and a heifer. They began a search. They found the cow in the woodshed. With the firm conviction that the heifer had "beat it," they returned to their home and found the animal in the parlor.

EVANS TALKS ON BODILY HEALING

Quarantine Authorized by Scriptures, Is Pastor's Claim In Sermon

The William Evans meeting conducted at the Glendale Presbyterian church last night opened with song services, after which Dr. Evans spoke on the subject, "Bodily Healing." He told in a forceful manner that while God does answer prayers, bodily healing as practiced by certain cults is not evidenced in the scriptures.

The use of quarantine is definitely told in God's word and fatal results were shown by references and illustrations in cases where quarantine and other means were not used, he declared.

Dr. Evans will speak tonight on "Why I Am Not a Christian Scientist." He has an inspiring message which will be of interest to all, it is declared.

Judge Finds Pay of Bootblack Is Better

DENVER, Colo., Mar. 20.—District Judge Julian H. Moore listened in amazement when a local bootblack testified in a civil suit in his court that he earned $15 a day shining shoes.

Beavers work mostly at night.

MUSIC WEEK TO BE OBSERVED IN GLENDALE IN MAY

Community Sings, Recitals And Radio Concerts Are On Program

An inspiration for "National Music Week" in Glendale, starting Sunday, May 4, is a communication from President Calvin Coolidge, heartily endorsing plans for the celebration. He says:

"Your note extending to me your invitation to become chairman of the honorary committee in connection with the forthcoming observance of National Music Week is received. I have to thank you, and to assure you of the pleasure with which I accept the invitation. I hope this year's observance of Music Week may mark another milestone on the way to the widest interest in, and appreciation of, the best in music culture."

Read at Meeting

This note was addressed to C. M. Tremaine, secretary of the National Music Week committee, and was read at a meeting of that body.

Reports were given from churches, schools, luncheon clubs, fraternal, music and business organizations, expressing the heartiest co-operation.

The week will begin with musical sermons and programs in Glendale churches Sunday, May 4.

Big Community Sing

On the afternoon of that Sunday Glendale will join with other communities in a community choral festival in the Hollywood Bowl.

Another feature of the week will be a radio concert in the auditorium of the Broadway High school. A high-powered radio receiving set has been secured for this event, to be open to the public.

Noon hour organ recitals at the theatres and open-air band concerts will also be held.

Bandits Get $2500 In Holdup of Bank

LOS ANGELES, March 20.—Two bandits held up and robbed a bank at Los Nietos near Rivera, shortly after noon today and escaped with $2500 in cash, according to a report telephoned to the sheriff's office here.

The bandits entered the bank flourishing guns and after robbing the place escaped in a large automobile. A sheriff's posse set out to hunt them.

Heavy Snow Reported In Redding District

REDDING, Cal., March 20.—Ear muffs and woolen gloves were much in evidence in this district today, following the fall of an inch of snow last night, accompanied by an unusual drop in temperature. Six inches of snow was reported today on the Trinity county divide, with two inches at the Sybil mine, west of French Gulch, and a light fall at Dunsmuir.

HOW ARE YOU

going to stop Glendale from growing when Los Angeles is overflowing? Think this over, then ask the Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and Santa Fe why they are making up new trains and extra equipment and rushing them into the east. Do you suppose these men are guessing that the east is moving to California? They know. Therefore, you'll have to get busy and buy something. See these lots, all priced to sell, and well located:

LAW SUIT LOOMS IN STREET PLAN

Project to Link Glendale Avenue With Boulevard Is Frowned Upon

The opening of a connecting street between Glendale boulevard and Glendale avenue, from the corner of Brand boulevard and Forest avenue to the corner of Glendale avenue and Cerritos avenue, will not be pushed at this time by the Glendale Advancement association, it was decided at the regular weekly meeting of the organization held today noon at the Harriett Mae tea room.

To ask that this connecting street be laid out and paved might have a tendency to prevent the paving and improving of Forest avenue, it was pointed out at the meeting. Threatening litigation over the opening of the proposed street would keep the case in the courts for three or four years, it was said.

The block contains land donated to the school board by the Richardson estate, to be used only for school purposes, and members of the association fear an attempt to have the street opened across this land would result in the heirs of the estate recalling the property.

Need Transportation

President C. W. Ingledue, who presided at the meeting, instructed the members of the public utility committee to take the necessary steps toward securing some sort of a transportation line to serve northeast Glendale, after residents of that section of the city reported inadequate transportation facilities.

This committee will also work in conjunction with similar committees of other organizations toward securing better telephone service in Glendale, President Ingledue announced.

The meeting was given over to reports of various committees, the chairmen of which outlined plans on numerous civic projects endorsed and advocated by the association.

Mrs. Mattison B. Jones appealed to the members for support of the oratorio, "Elijah," to be given by the Glendale Music club next Tuesday. She announced the Chamber of Commerce had furnished the banners being displayed on street cars which advertised the oratorio and Glendale.

PETITION SEEKS CENTRAL PAVING

West Broadway Improvment Not Yet Reported on By Commission

planning commission. The commission has requested another week in which to look over the project, and informed the council that in that time petitions asking that the widening be extended from Pacific avenue to San Fernando road would be circulated, and the entire street could then be improved at once.

The city attorney was instructed to start the necessary proceedings for the widening of Central avenue as requested. This movement has nothing to do with the discussion three months ago, which provided for a road 100 feet wide from San Fernando road to Broadway. It will probably be five years before the latter project is started, officials declared.

Wait for Report

O. M. Newby addressed the council on the status of the proposed widening of West Broadway. He stated that he wanted to work with the City Planning Commission, but did not want the widening of that thoroughfare from Central to Pacific jeopardized by the failure of the proposed extension to San Fernando road to go through. He was assured by the members of the council that action would be taken on the matter as soon as they had a report from the members of the commission.

The commission, through the secretary, P. J. Hayselden, reported that they had held a meeting last night at which all members were present when the matter of widening San Fernando road was taken up and discussed thoroughly.

All were in favor of the widening, but the residents of that district differed as to the methods to be employed in accomplishing the purpose. L. H. Wilson did not want the project to go through on one petition covering the road through the entire city limits. He suggested that the thoroughfare be split into four or five sectors and a separate petition be circulated in each one.

Others opposed this, and wanted the work covered by one petition. Others who addressed the meeting, according to Mr. Hayselden's report, were Harry White, Dan Campbell and R. E. Johnston.

The commission took the matter under advisement and will make a report at an early date.

Auto Camp Permit

E. Holland, whose camp ground at 526 South San Fernando road has been the cause of controversy and legal battles for several months, was granted a permit to conduct his camp until June 30, providing that he would put up a $1500 cash bond guaranteeing the removal of his camp on that date. The council took this action in an effort to give him time to recoup some of his losses on the proposition, which he has suffered through the litigation involved in the lease which he purchased. The granting of the original application for the permit was bitterly opposed by residents of that part of the city.

A communication was read from Mrs. J. A. Gyger, secretary of the Fourth Street Improvement association, asking that the grade crossing over the Pacific Electric tracks on Grand View avenue be widened. This was referred to the city engineer.

Discuss Traffic Ideas

The suggestions of W. B. Davis regarding the changes needed in the city parking regulations, as published in The Evening News of March 15, contained so much merit that this subject was debated at length by members of the council. An ordinance was introduced changing the parking regulations on Wilson between Louise and Brand, and several other suggestions will be incorporated in the ordinance when it comes up for adoption next Thursday.

Bids were opened for the improvement of Thompson avenue from San Fernando road to Fourth street. They were referred to the city engineer for checking and report.

The petition to set aside as a commercial district property at the corner of Broadway and Wilson avenue was denied, on the recommendation of the city planning commission that this action be taken by the council.

Ornamental Lights

Petitions were read asking for the installation of ornamental lights on Los Feliz road from the westerly city limits to Glendale avenue, and asking for the improvement of Fourth street from Winchester to Justin.

The ordinance introduced by Councilman Gilhuly requiring that electricians operating in Glendale be required to pay a $50 license fee drew forth strong criticism from Councilman Davis. He stated that it was "merely an effort to create a trust," and the home-builder would eventually have to pay it.

Councilman Gilhuly defended the ordinance, stating that it would protect, if passed, the men who had money invested in Glendale, and would keep outsiders from coming in and cutting prices on one job. Councilman Hall supported Councilman Gilhuly. The ordinance comes up for adoption next Thursday.

Fliers Reach Seattle In Daring Journey

son, flying plane No. 4 from Eugene. Lieutenant Nelson is expected to join the squadron at Seattle.

Major Martin was first in the air in the big Douglas flight plane No. 1. He was followed in the take-off closely by Lieutenant Smith and Lieutenant Wade. About 150 people were on hand to wave a second farewell to the globe fliers.

Time of arrival in Seattle will depend entirely on weather conditions encountered en route, Major Martin said before mounting the cockpit. Reports stated that a heavy fog prevailed about Oxkalama, Wash.

Indications were that the birdmen would have to proceed somewhat cautiously in order to assure a safe trip to Seattle.

Decision to turn back yesterday was reached by Major Martin after the squadron encountered a huge fog bank near the mouth of the Cowlitz river. At the time the planes were flying at about 500 feet. Major Martin, Lieutenant Wade and Lieutenant Smith spent the night in Portland and returned here early today, eager to make the jump to Seattle. The Douglas planes were gone over carefully by mechanics after the return here yesterday and are in fine shape for the flight today.

ROSEBURG, Ore., Mar. 20.—Lieutenant W. R. Sweeley of Crissy field, and Photographer Hoff of a Los Angeles newspaper, expected to take the train today for San Francisco following the smash-up of their plane near here yesterday when a forced landing was made in a clump of trees.

EVANS' BUILDING TO COST $23,000

Permits for March Are Over $600,000; Year's Total Is Now $2,442,659

The granting of a permit this morning to W. E. Evans for the erection of a building to contain, in addition to stores and markets, an auto service station, at 214 South Brand boulevard, costing $23,000, brought the total of permits for the month to over the $600,000 mark.

With permits in excess of $60,000 issued yesterday, the total for the month at noon was announced as $607,430 by H. C. Vandewater, municipal building superintendent. The total for 1924 is $2,442,659.

The building which Mr. Evans plans to erect will be 100x125 feet, one story in height. Lucius A. Phillips of Los Angeles is the architect.

The following permits were issued recently:

Huntley & Evans, stores, 214 South Brand	$23,000
William E. Jernegan, 4 rooms and garage, 1109 San Rafael	2,300
Mrs. M. L. Englebardt, apartment, 1472 East Wilson	12,000
Clara Kenyon, garage, 534 West Colorado	350
Fern F. Lytle, addition, 722 North Louise	200

Many Foreigners In New Haven Schools

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 20.—Out of 31,762 children being regularly taught in public schools of New Haven there are today 9,131 children of American parentage on the list. Children of Italian parentage lead the rolls, totalling 11,518. Forty-seven nationalities are represented, and out of the entire body of children more than 1,500 were born abroad.

TELLS PLAN FOR SEWAGE DISPOSAL

Engineer Explains Methods For Future Use at Rotary Meeting

Outlining plans for future sewage disposal in Los Angeles, A. K. Warren, senior engineer in charge of county sanitation, spoke before the Glendale Rotary club this afternoon on the three vital problems confronting Southern California. These are water conservation, highways and sanitation.

The county, through districts which are now forming, is following the lead of Los Angeles city in carrying out a program of ocean sewage disposal, according to the speaker, who related the problems confronting Pasadena and San Gabriel valley communities. He added that Glendale had shown the wisdom and foresight of settling its sewage disposal problem in the most practical manner by connecting with Los Angeles' outfall.

Urges Bond Support

In regard to water conservation and flood control, Mr. Warren urged that Glendale take an active interest in putting over the $4,500,000 bond issue proposed by the Los Angeles board of supervisors, in that it would not only eliminate the elements of danger following storms, but that check dams would fill the underground reservoirs and raise the water level for pumping. This was proved, he said, in the instance of the Devil's Gate dam.

"We cannot expect to get more water from the Los Angeles aqueduct than sufficient to supply the demands of Los Angeles itself," the speaker confided, at the same time pointing out that a water supply from Boulder Canyon dam would be feasible only for the lower levels of Southern California. To bring this water from Utah to Los Angeles would involve many tunnels through the mountains, some forty miles long, which makes it impractical as a source for domestic supply.

The highway problem in Los Angeles county is being cared for nicely by the regional planning commission, in the opinion of Mr. Warren. This body is co-ordinating the work of the city and county in caring for increased traffic demands.

Father-Son Banquet

Arthur H. Dibbern, chairman of the boys' work committee, urged that all members of the club be present at the Y. M. C. A. Father and Son banquet next Tuesday night. Richardson D. White reported that Rotary was sponsoring one of five new Boy Scout troops and a scoutmaster is sought. There will be twelve to fourteen troops in Glendale as the result of organization of additional troops tonight.

Rene Olin, secretary of the club, was called upon by Fay G. Stone, chairman of the program committee, for a violin solo, which was encored. Paul Carson accompanied him. In the absence of other officials who are at San Jose attending the district conference of International Rotary W. E. Hewitt presided in an able manner.

Visitors at today's luncheon included Arthur M. Loomis, F. S. Beavis, Arthur P. Pratt and J. C. Rendler of Los Angeles, the latter introducing the speaker of the day; William J. Hendy, North Platte, Neb.; J. Will Johnson, Pueblo, Colo.; Theodore Krabbenhoft, Davenport, Ia., and Robert E. Ford, Minneapolis, Minn.

Wills Fowls to His Sons and Daughters

WASHINGTON, March 20.—What is believed to be one of the strangest wills ever filed for probate in the District of Columbia was just filed here. It was that of August H. Wieneke, who died in the early part of December, 1923. The will directs that his three daughters be each given "one rooster and five cents," his two sons "one hen and five cents each" and the remainder of his estate be given to a third son.

The executor is directed to buy the hens and roosters, if the deceased has none, out of the third son's money. In event other heirs turn up, the executor is directed to give them each 39 cents. The third son has the use of the estate during life.

RECEPTION HELD FOR REPUBLICAN WOMEN LEADERS

Coolidge Delegates to May Primary Entertained at Los Angeles

Representative Republican women of Los Angeles county held a reception this afternoon at the Los Angeles Coolidge headquarters, for Mrs. Florence Collins Porter, Mrs. Helen Mathewson Laughlin and Mrs. Laura Taylor Kelley, Coolidge delegates of the May primary. This reception was attended by more than 100 leading women.

Following the reception conference of members of the executive committee of the women's division was conducted by Mrs. Porter, who is chairman of the women's activities.

Organization of the Young Men's Coolidge for President club was effected at a meeting last Thursday evening and plans were made for conducting an intensive campaign among the younger voters of Southern California. According to the plans which were agreed on at this meeting a woman's division is to be organized at once.

At Huntington Park

Coolidge Republicans of Huntington Park opened their campaign on last Thursday evening with a rally in the American Legion hall. This was one of the most largely attended meetings outside of Los Angeles. Mrs. Porter and W. E. Evans, also a Coolidge delegate, addressed this gathering.

The second instruction meeting of the Southern California speaking bureau was conducted last Wednesday, March 19, at the Clark hotel in Los Angeles. Professor H. J. Stonier, of the University of Southern California, gave a second lecture on the bonus plan. These meetings are to be continued regularly each Wednesday. A number of evening meetings will also be held.

Sawtelle Meeting

Sawtelle Coolidge Republicans had an enthusiastic rally on Tuesday evening, March 18, in the woman's clubhouse of that place. Reports from this meeting indicate that the membership of this club has been increased at a rapid rate during the past few days. The membership drive which is now in progress by the body has for its goal 1,000 persons active in the campaign work.

Reservations have commenced to come in to the Los Angeles Coolidge headquarters for the luncheon which will be conducted on Tuesday, March 25, at which Congressmen Walter Lineberger and John D. Fredericks will be the principal speakers. These Southern California representatives are the first of a series of nationally known speakers who are expected to address Southern California audiences during the next few weeks in behalf of President Coolidge's campaign.

CRIMES OF BOYS LAID TO LUXURY

All World In Mad Rush For Pleasure, Opines Juvenile Judge

PHILADELPHIA, March 20.—Love of luxury, which has spread to the young, is chiefly to blame for the increasing seriousness of crimes for which boys are arrested today, according to Judge James E. Gorman, of the Juvenile court here, who for ten years has been studying child criminology.

"Ten years ago," Judge Gorman declared, "most of the boys brought before me were arrested for some petty dismeanor, such as stealing fruit or breaking windows, or till-tapping—all trifling offenses. Malicious mischief, delinquency and truancy were the majority of the charges. Today there is an increasing seriousness of the crimes committed by boys. Automobile stealing is prevalent. Thefts of a serious nature, burglary and the carrying of firearms are common charges brought against boys under sixteen years old.

Carry Guns Now

"The most dangerous sign, in my opinion," he continued, "is the carrying of firearms. Only the other day a boy was brought before me for threatening his mother with a revolver. I don't remember any case ten years ago when a boy was caught with firearms.

"In part, the example of the 'movies' is to blame, but more so the general love of luxury that has spread to the young in these modern times. All the world is in a mad rush after pleasure. Naturally the boys have been affected by the craze. Most of the boys caught in crime come from poor families. They can't have spending money, so they go out and steal. Of course, the same was true ten years ago, but the pleasures then were much simpler, and naturally the means of getting them were not so serious."

Cases of boys being organized into gangs and schooled by some modern Fagin, although rare, exist, Judge Gorman said.

Scratch-backs, long instruments with claws at one end, were once considered indispensable articles of toilet and were carried by ladies of high society even to the theatre box.

A motor driven eraser made it possible to correct an error in printing on 200,000 postcards.

trying to talk at once. Both were angry and shouting.

Reveals Agreement

Rickard said he entered into an agreement with "Jap" Muma, a friend of Attorney General Daugherty; Ike Martin, a Cincinnati promoter, and William A. Orr, New York, to divide the proceeds from showing the films.

"What made you pay 50 per cent to Muma and Martin" asked Senator Wheeler.

"Well, they said they could get this law passed," said Rickard.

"Do you want us to understand you fell for such bunk as that?" said Wheeler. "Did you think they could have a law passed in a few days"

Law in Two Weeks

"No," said Rickard. "I thought it would take about two weeks. I don't know yet that it couldn't be done."

"You thought Muma had influence in Washington?"

"Yes; he was a newspaperman, and I thought he has some influence."

Rickard said he had never been prosecuted by Attorney General Daugherty for his part in showing the films, "but he threatened to."

"When was that?" said Wheeler, sharply.

"In November, 1921," said Rickard. "At least that is what Quimby told me."

Quimby was part owner of the pictures.

$2500 for "Influence"

Rickard admitted there was a lot of money that Quimby had never accounted for, but he denied that he thought Quimby had paid any out to "fix things."

"You paid Orr $2500 to fix things up with the censorship commissioner in New York, didn't you?" barked Wheeler.

"No," said Rickard, "not to fix things. It was just for his influence."

Rickard was closely questioned about the "missing profits."

"You say Quimby took in money which was never accounted for?"

"Well, we took in $25,000 in Chicago, and they said the expenses were $35,000. That didn't seem right."

"You didn't know that some of that went to Jesse Smith?" asked Senator Brookhart, Republican, of Iowa.

"No."

"What other instances were there when Quimby didn't account for money?"

Trip to Germany

"Well, we took in $100,000 in New York and there was only $10,000 profit. That looked like bad business to me. Quimby went to Germany just afterwards."

"You think he went on the money he made out of the picture deals?"

"I guess he did."

Wheeler turned Rickard over to Daugherty's attorneys for examination.

"We have no questions," said Paul Howland, one of the attorney-general's counsel. Rickard was then excused.

Montana Stockmen to Convene Next April

HELENA, Mont., Mar. 19.—Although the event will not be held until next April, plans already are being made for the annual convention of the Montana Stockgrowers association, which this year will be held in Dillon. It will be the greatest event of its kind ever held there, and will be attended by stockmen from all parts of Montana and the west. A livestock show will be held also. Substantial cash prizes will be offered.

ARGUE MERIT OF SCHOOL UNIFORM BEFORE MOTHERS

Members of League Discuss Proposal at Meeting of P.-T. A. Members

By KATHERINE V. SINKS
Of The Evening News Staff.

However the vote on uniform dress may go today at the Glendale Union High school, the mothers will make the decision unanimous if judgment is based on action taken yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the Parent-Teacher association at the Harvard High school.

High school mothers gathered yesterday at the Parent-Teacher association meeting, went on record as being neutrals, pledging themselves to advocate the type of dress chosen by the high school Girls' League today by votes of the freshman, sophomore and junior girls.

And no wonder these mothers yesterday were neutral, for they had as guests and speakers two high school misses, who, in addition to being eloquent and convincing speakers pro and con, on the uniform dress subject, were faultlessly dressed, Bonnie Jean Lockwood in one of the neat uniforms advocated, and Charlotte Busby in an equally as neat tailored sports dress.

Describes Uniform

Miss Lockwood spoke first, stating that the proposed uniform plan calls for every high school girl wearing a dark blue wool skirt, white middy blouse with blue collar and cuffs, black regulation tie and black shoes and stockings. That from April to November white skirts will be permitted and that four times a year, or once a quarter a "Civy Day" will be observed, when the girls can wear what they please to school. A "uniform board" will be chosen by the Girls' League every year, and violators of the uniform dress law will be given extra periods.

She said that uniform dress had been voted into Glendale High school several years ago, but had never been carried out. She added that now the plan is to make it a permanent part of school life.

"It is practical, will eliminate class distinction, create a democratic spirit, be economical and be of great value to the girls and to the school," declared Miss Lockwood.

In closing she said that uniform dress is being worn in many high

Thrills And Laughter At Legion Benefit As Stars Present Varied Program

By AL DIX
Of The Evening News Staff.

Glendale has not forgotten!
Neither has the Hollywood film colony!

Before a crowd that filled the Broadway High school auditorium to overflowing last night, a company of stage and screen stars headed by Miss Virginia Pearson, thrilled their hearers with their versatility. At times the roars of laughter rolled out like thunderclaps, again the silence was profound as some of the most tragic scenes ever presented in Glendale were portrayed by the actors.

Resulting from the combined efforts of the stars, the people of Glendale and the members of Glendale Post No. 127, American Legion, under whose auspices the show was given, the fund for the relief of disabled veterans and the club house budget have materially increased to the extent of some $2000. The exact amount netted from the benefit will not be known until all tickets have been turned in and checked.

Rogers is Absent

The only disappointment of the evening was the non-appearance of Will Rogers, who was called out of town on business and found it impossible to attend. Joseph A. Wilson, post commander, and W. H. Regelin, vice commander, called upon him at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon in an effort to have him reconsider his decision, in order that the audience might not be disappointed. But the business was of such an important character that he could not alter his arrangements. He sent along a good sized check for the fund, but this did not make up for his absence from the program.

The stars present, however—and there were many of them—arose to unexpected heights in their efforts to entertain the crowd. From the moment that Lionel Belmore, master of ceremonies, thrust his head through the curtain at 8:30 to announce the opening act, until the last fade-out on the picture, "A Prince of a King," which ended the program at 12:45, there was constant action.

"Wolf," the famous police dog, decorated for bravery under fire by Marshal Foch, opened the program. While not a dog performing a number of routine tricks, at the command of his master, Jere Evans, Wolf showed a great amount of intelligence, his efforts to play leap frog with a number of small boys called to the platform especially pleasing the crowd.

Little Jackie Parker's dissertation on lolly-pops, and his close-ups of the at-home characteristics of several prominent members of the Hollywood set received loud applause. His explanation of the part he played in the eternal triangle with Jackie Coogan and Baby Peggy went over big.

Tells About Girls

Harry Tighe, one of vaudeville's greatest, entertained with extracts from his latest book on girls. He led the audience to believe that he had a varied and long experience in this direction. He was forced to respond to a curtain call.

The first feminine element was injected into the program at this time by Shannon Day. Lacking sufficient adjectives properly to describe her winsomeness, suffice it to say that her dancing brought down the house. The crowd, loath to let her depart, called her back again and again.

The only sketch of the evening was put on by Lovell Alice Taylor and Paul Moore, entitled a "Him of Hate." Until seeing this nobody realized how much trouble could be caused by one egg. As Lionel Belmore said—all married people know how breakfast goes after you have been married three years and single people should not know it. Their parts suited them admirably, and the skit was very well done.

Cody Brings Thrill

The first real thrill of the evening came when Lew Cody was introduced. Lew got away to a good start with a line of stories that took well, and gave a short talk on subjects that were anything but serious. He finished by giving a wonderful reproduction of the ravings of a shell-shocked soldier in a war hospital, using his vehicle poem called "Fleurette."

The piece was really well done and showed that aside from playing parts as "Dangerous Dan McGrew," he possesses a real dramatic ability. Lew told several jokes, mostly on himself.

Cosmo Morgan amused the youngsters and many of the older persons present with sleight-of-hand tricks and magic. His feat

WHAT THEY SAID

Here's what some of the movie stars at the American Legion benefit last night had to say, solemn and otherwise:

LIONEL BELMORE—We regard it as our duty to be here tonight. We can never repay the debt we owe the men who offered their lives in the defense of the country.

HARRY TIGHE—I had a girl who was a milliner in a milk factory. She put caps on milk bottles.

I've got a friend in Hollywood who has drunk so much hair tonic since the country went dry that he has dandruff in the roof of his mouth.

LEW CODY—You know I'm king of Raisin day at Fresno. Some one has advised me to take my raisins straight.

When all the movie people went north to San Francisco to the Wampas ball, the Chamber of Commerce there had cars awaiting us at the station. On every car there was a banner with the names on it of those riding in the machine. I was riding with Barbara La Marr, consequently the sign read, "Barbara La Marr and Lew Cody."

As we passed one corner a little nigger chap about 10 years of age read the sign and remarked, "There sure goes a carload of sin."

HERBERT RAWLINSON—But I am not out here to talk politics. And it's a good thing, I guess. Lord, ain't they in an awful mess at Washington? For once they missed Hollywood. I don't know how it happened. If we pulled half of that stuff I don't know what they would have done to us.

I have an English actor friend in Hollywood. The other night he was going home with two bundles under his arm. A policeman stopped him and asked him what he was carrying. "One is sugar for my tea and the other is sugar for my coffee," replied the Briton. The cop drew out his night stick, hit him on the head and said: "There's a lump for your cocoa." In explaining the incident to me the next day the Englishman said, "But the joke of it is, old chap, that I don't drink cocoa."

There was a man and his wife who lived together in Hollywood. (Laughter). Yes, sir, that's true. I lived in Glendale in 1910. At 900 East Lomita avenue.

While Herb was speechifying, the amateur electrician back stage pulled the wrong switch and plunged the entire house in darkness. He was equal to the occasion, and remarked:

"Gee, a nigger must have been passing the power house."

VIRGINIA PEARSON—Divorce is so bad in Hollywood, isn't it? Here is my husband, Sheldon Lewis. I've been married to him for thirteen years. Scandalous, isn't it? We're still living together.

Many of my friends who wanted to be here tonight could not come on account of production work. Mae Murray sent along a handsome check for the fund, with me.

I find human nature is just about the same wherever you come in contact with it. Don't blame the entire film colony just because a few happen to get their names on the front pages of the paper.

There are thousands of good men and women in Hollywood engaged in movie work who have the fear of God and the love of mankind in their hearts just the same as people in any city of the United States. We're not all bad, you know.

NEW BOOKS TELL OF U. S. HISTORY

Volumes on Government Is Now Available at Library For Students

Glendale students and others, who are interested in the study of American history and government, will be pleased in an announcement coming from Mrs. Alma J. Danford, librarian of the Public library, of a list of new books now available at the library.

These books are "Citadel of Freedom" (Leigh); "Essays on Constitutional System" (Willoughby); "The Framing of the Constitution" (Farrand); "An Economic Interpretation of the Constitution of the United States" (Beard); "American Government and Politics" (Beard); "The Federalist" (Hamilton); "A New Constitution for a New America" (MacDonald); "The Constitution of the United States" (Schuyler); "The Story of Our Constitution" (Tappan); "A History of the Presidency from 1788 to 1916" (Stanwood); "The Constitutional History of the United States" (Holst), in eight volumes; "Commonwealth" (Bryce); "The Constitution of the United States, Its Sources and Its Application" (Norton); "Modern Democracies"

CONVENTION TO HEAR ACCOUNT OF CLUBS' WORK

Limited Time to Be Allowed Organizations to Tell Main Activities

Reflecting the work and accomplishments of individual clubs throughout Los Angeles county, the program at the twenty-third annual convention of the Los Angeles district, California Federation of Women's clubs, April 8, 9 and 10 at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse in Glendale, will be devoted in a great degree to reports from individual clubs pre-eminent in interest and helpfulness in club work.

This pre-view of convention activities comes from tentative program plans outlined by Mrs. Charles H. Toll, district president and chairman of the convention program.

Equalize Reports

If all the clubs in the district report and are given three minutes each, nine hours will be consumed, but these will be distributed throughout the three days, with those clubs numbering ninety-nine or fewer, allowed two minutes; those numbering from 100 to 500 two and a half minutes; those up to 1000 members, three minutes, while the six clubs in the district numbering over 1000 will be given three and one-half minutes.

Clubs of similar size will report at the same session to avoid contrasting the work of a small club with that of a large one.

Serving on Mrs. Toll's program committee are Mrs. Daniel Campbell, president of the Tuesday Afternoon club; Mrs. W. F. Mabee, district chairman of music; Miss Lloy Galpin, district chairman of international relations; and Mrs. Mab Copeland Lineman, district chairman of legislation.

Additional Appointments

Other appointments made by Mrs. Toll on Tuesday are Mrs. Charles F. Van de Water, president of the Long Beach Ebell club, chairman of the resolutions committee, assisted by Mrs. A. L. Woodin, Mrs. Charles Steere, Mrs. F. A. Fysh, Miss Vera E. Best and Mrs. Chester C. Ashley; credentials and badges, Mrs. A. J. Derby, Mrs. Daniel J. Baptiste, Mrs. E. H. Edwards, Mrs. L. P. McClellan, Mrs. T. A. Gould, Miss Nellie M. White and Mrs. Warren Holden; revision committee, Mrs. Charles S. McKelvey, Mrs. W. J. Lee and Mrs. R. G. Dupuy; rules and regulations, Mrs. McKelvey; federation courtesy, Mrs. J. B. Lorbeer, Mrs. Alton L. Drown, Mrs. John Woods Dorrance, Mrs. C. J. Trusseler and Mrs. O. C. Houghton.

"Education for Peace" is to be the dominating theme of the convention.

Special features of the convention will be an art exhibit arranged by Mrs. Kathryn W. Leighton, district chairman of art; the annual press banquet at the Egyptian Village for 100 press chairmen, presidents and club editors, in charge of Mrs. Leiland A. Irish, district press chairman, and Miss Eva Daniels, chairman of publicity for the Tuesday Afternoon club; and the annual federation banquet, for club delegates and their husbands, Mrs. Emil Johnson of Glendale in charge of reservations.

PEARSON PRAISES GLENDALE DEPOT

Realtor Describes Station As Important Asset to City's Growth

James W. Pearson, realtor, with offices at 715 South Brand boulevard, writes The Glendale Evening News regarding the new Southern Pacific station as follows:

"Glendale has at last a station to be proud of. A mixture of Spanish and Egyptian architecture with beautiful colors blending with our California; large waiting room with beautifully decorated beam ceiling and barred windows; modern equipment in every detail; commodious seats for the weary; exterior pergolas which will in time carry leafy vines and roses; spacious graveled walks and parking spaces; ornamental post signs at either end of the gravel walks bearing the name Glendale; post electroliers on all sides of the station and over the pergola at the east end of the station which shades and lights more comfortable seats; in fact, everything that can be thought of for the comfort and convenience of the traveler. This is what the Southern Pacific has provided for Glendale. It will serve us for many years to come. The traveler going through Glendale and seeing this new and commodious station will at once be curious to find out more about Glendale."

THE EVENING WRAP

Not everyone has use for an elaborate evening wrap, therefore a splendid suggestion is for a cape that may cloak a street or afternoon frock just as suitably as it can an evening dress.

GET NO REST IN WINTER MONTHS

Circus Stars Appear In Screen Productions

Not all the actors who appear before the movie camera draw down as big checks each week as does Joe Martin, monkey star de luxe, shown here with his trainer and best pal.

"CAMERA!"

That's a word the 2000 moving picture actors with the Al. G. Barnes circus and wild animal show, coming to Glendale on Saturday, March 29 are quite familiar with, for nearly all the performers with the troupe took a whirl before the West Coast movie cameras last winter.

The greatest movie star of them all—Joe Martin, himself—has received record sums for his services in Hollywood and Culver City but you never hear him talking salary, high-priced cars or costly bungalows.

All of the Barnes' movie actors were cast in a big jungle picture in a Hollywood studio. They motored to work, too—in shifting cages on trucks. Then the cameramen motored to Culver City, the winter home of the Al. G. Barnes circus zoo and "shot" pictures of

EARLY ROMANCE OF CALIFORNIA IS RETOLD AT CLUB

Play Centers About 'Days Of Forty-Nine,' Wear Old Costumes

"Days of old, days of gold, days of Forty-Nine" was the theme of the program of the literature department of the Tuesday Afternoon club when they entertained the members of the club and friends in the Italian tea room of the clubhouse, yesterday afternoon.

With a courtesy that was much appreciated, the literature department invited the history and landmarks committee to present the program for the annual guest day. Mrs. Geo. H. Rowe is chairman of the history and landmarks committee and the members assisting in arranging the afternoon were Mesdames T. H. Addison, Edgar Leavitt, Thos. McDougal, Frank Brown and Chas. Hahn.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. H. C. Wilcox, curator of the literature department; Mrs. Vernell Rapp, chairman of the social committee of the department, and Mrs. Thos. McDougal of the history and landmarks committee, assisted by the following members in costume, Mesdames Herbert D. Fortier, H. S. Garlinghouse, Geo. H. Rowe, R. W. Mottern, T. H. Addison, W. H. Verity, Edith Fessenden, J. A. Bolton and Miss May Lyon.

Old Costumes Worn

Mrs. Wilcox wore a costume of 1840, once worn by a member of the "F.F.V.," a little scarlet-braided jacket and "nosegay" of the same brilliant color, with a white lace poke bonnet framing her piquant face. Mrs. Rapp was in a little frock of pink with wide blue sash and drooping hat. Mrs. McDougal wore a little black gown with quaint collar and shawl. Mrs. Fortier, who later took part in the program, wore

Daily News Letter

General News and Gossip from Staff Writers at Home and Abroad.

By LUTHER A. HUSTON,
For International News Service

LONDON, March 20. — Warriors of the future will go forth like those of Shakespeare's story, on 'barbed steeds to fright the souls of fearful adversaries," according to General Sir Ian Hamilton, noted British soldier and veteran of the Boer War and the great World conflict.

Armor clad, like the Crusaders of old, and bullet proof, the legions of the future will sweep forward and laugh at the crude methods of what is now regarded as modern warfare.

"The next time our boys go over the top," said General Hamilton, in addressing a meeting of the British Legion, "we want to see them do it like gentlemen, in their cars, clad in bullet-proof armor. We want them to scorch through the barrage at twenty miles an hour, tearing through the wire as if it were gossamer and laughing at the rattling of the rifle bullets.

"We don't want them to endure the misery we suffered on the Western front—exhausted, caked with mud, loaded up with rations and munitions; crawling over the bloody ground, held up for hours on end, a mark for the fire of the murderous machine guns; hung up at the end like flies in webs of barbed wire. We want them to have a chance in battle."

The surest way to prevent repetition of the horrors of the last war in the conflicts of the future, General Hamilton declared, is to mechanize the army. His proposal is that the mechanical branches of the army should be organized as distinct units, with their own chief, their own uniform. The status of the mechanical engineer, he declared, must be recognized.

"The mechanical engineer," he said, "must be the mainspring of the new model army. We must have a united body of experts standing by to catch the ideas of men of science so as to work them out in metal."

Unless folks quit regarding "Back to Methuselah," the play which takes five nights to perform, as a joke, George Bernard Shaw, who wrote it, threatens to write one that will take a month to perform.

Shaw thinks that the London public and theatrical critics are poking too much fun at his masterpiece, which is now playing here. He admits that it took genius to write it and emphatically declares it is not a joke.

Shaw brushes aside the criticism that his play is too long by declaring he might have made it longer.

"If I felt like it," he said, "I could write a play that would take a month to perform. Why shouldn't I? The only objection is the purely technical one of the difficulty of rehearsing so many plays simultaneously and paying for the large cast necessary."

America has far outstripped England in military and naval aviation, but is lagging behind in the development of commercial flying, according to Air Vice-Marshal Sir W. Sefton Brancker, director of civil aviation in the British government. Vice-Marshal Brancker based his conclusion on observations taken during a recent three weeks' visit to the various aviation centers of the United States.

"The keen rivalry between the army and the navy in the United States," General Brancker said, in an interview with International News Service, "has resulted in wonderful progress in military aviation, particulary in the matter of speed. The United States is flying fifty miles an hour faster than we are, and can do things with their military machines that we cannot even attempt at the present time."

POEMS That LIVE

YOU'LL LOVE ME YET.

You'll love me yet!—and I can tarry
Your love's protracted growing.
June reared that bunch of flowers you carry,
From seeds of April's sowing.

I plant a heartful now: some seed
At least is sure to strike,
And yield—what you'll not pluck indeed,
Not love, but, may be, like.

You'll look at least on love's remains,
A grave's one violet:
Your look?—that pays a thousand pains.
What's death? You'll love me yet!

—Robert Browning.

SUN

Angel, king of streaming morn;
Cherub, call'd by Heav'n to shine;
T'orient tread the waste forlorn;
Guide aetherial pow'r divine;
Thou, Lord of all within!

Golden spirit, lamp of day,
Host, that dips in blood the plain,
Bids the crimson'd mead be gay;
Bids the green blood burst the vein;
Thou, Lord of all within!

Soul that wraps the globe in light;
Spirit, beckoning to arise;
Drives the frowning brow of night,
Glory bursting o'er the skies;
Thou, Lord of all within!

—Henry Rowe.

A clergyman was playing a round of golf with a very strenuous but bad player, who was an actor. Presently his opponent reeled off a round of lurid language, says Pearson's Weekly.

"Look here," said the clergyman, "even if you don't respect me you might respect the cloth."

"Hang it all," said the actor, "we're not playing billiards, are we?"

HELP KIDNEYS BY DRINKING MORE WATER

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys and Help Neutralize Irritating Acids

Kidney and bladder irritations often result from acidity, says a noted authority. The kidneys help filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it may remain to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread; the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is often one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Begin drinking lots of soft water, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast. Continue this for two or three days. This will help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normal again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by acid irritation. Jad Salts causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which may quickly relieve your bladder irritation. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Advertisement.

DEMAND FOLEY PILLS

FOLEY PILLS, a diuretic stimulant for the kidneys, have brought relief to thousands of sufferers from kidney disorders caused through the improper working of these organs. FOLEY PILLS will promptly flush the kidneys thereby removing injurious waste matter. Mrs. O. C. Alexander, R. No. 35, Montrose, Mo., states: "I received the package of FOLEY PILLS, and have been greatly benefited by their use."

WAIF TO BECOME KING OF GYPSIES

Queen Will Surrender Throne to Daughter

Katherine Williams and George Adams

SAN FRANCISCO, March 20.—An American boy, who a few years ago was a waif in the Chicago streets, is going to marry a kingdom.

When George Adams, now 16, attains his majority, he will receive the hand of the fairest of American gypsy princesses, and the ephemeral crown of the king of Romany tribes in North America.

A few days ago more than 2,000 gypsies from all parts of North America assembled at Woodland, Calif., for a conclave in which the betrothal of George and Katherine Williams, daughter of Queen Julia Williams, ruler of 560 families, was officially proclaimed.

Queen Julia will surrender her scepter to George on his wedding day.

It is the queen's own arrangement. She adopted George from out of the Chicago streets and brought him up as her own son. It has always been her intention to make the youth her successor, and to legalize the succession tribally, she arranged the marriage, with George and Katherine willingly co-operating, for they are sweethearts.

In accordance with tribal custom, George did not kiss his fiancee at the betrothal.

The Romany mode of life may be as glamorously romantic as it used to be, but it has felt the iron stamp of progress. Most of the 2,000 who gathered for the conclave came by motor.

On the Spur of the Moment

It is 1925.

The literary censorship has been established.

A petition having been submitted and properly passed on, the officer of the law designated for the purpose will now read poetry for one-half hour, as prescribed by the penal code. All minors will leave the room.

——— to me only with thine eyes,
And I will pledge with mine;
Or leave a ——— but in the cup
And I'll not look for ———.
The ——— that from the soul doth rise
Doth ask a drink divine;
But might I of Jove's nectar sup,
I would not change for thine.

Speaking Of Cognomens

After all, what is in a name? The Real name of Al Jolson is Asa Yoelson; of Mary Pickford, Gladys Smith; of Ina Claire, Ina Fagan; of Marie Dressler, Lelia Koreber; of Mitzi, Magdalena Hajos; of Conway Tearle, Frederick Tearle; of Robert Warwick, Robert T. Bien; of Lew Dockstader, George Alfred Clapp; of Henry Miller, John Pegge; of Shirley Mason and Viona Dana, sisters, Shirley and Viola Flugrath, Willard Mack is really Charles McLaughlin; Eddie Foy, Edward Fitzgerald; Hazel Dawn, Hazel Tout; Nora Bayes, Nora Goldberg; and Trixie Friganza, Della O'Callahan.

Slang has oozed into the symphony orchestras, too. A friend of ours who plays a "tin whistle" in an orchestra supplies us with the following vocabulary:

VIOLIN—Fiddle. Instruments of small value referred to as a Woolworth Strad.
VIOLA—Fiddle's big brother.
CELLO—Wooden saxophone.
SAXOPHONE—Tin cello.
DOUBLE-BASS—Dog house.
PICCOLO—Tin whistle.
FLUTE—Fife.
CLARINET—Swine-ette. Sometimes the goosetone.
FRENCH HORN—Twenty-four feet of pipe with a cramp.
TRUMPET—Rag horn.
TROMBONE—Slip horn.
BASSOON—Tagot.
TUBA—Oom-pah.
THE TYMPANI—Soup Kettles.
PERCUSSION SECTION—The kitchen.

The English horn has no nickname because it is neither English nor a horn.

We Have To Be Skeptical

It seems to be common supposition that the big business men of New York are the superiors of business out in the "provinces."

After reading the New York papers with their stories of little boys being intrusted to carry hundreds of thousands of dollars through the streets, and their stories about big business men and their loves and love letters, we doubt it.

Heart of young Ohio man found to be on the wrong side. Well, his heart is always on the right side.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— BY HOWARD R. GARIS —

UNCLE WIGGILY'S SUGAR BREAD

"Are you sure you don't mind staying at home today, Uncle Wiggily?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy one morning.

"Oh, not at all," answered the bunny rabbit gentleman. "I'll stay, and you can go out. I dare say I shall not be in very long."

So the muskrat lady housekeeper left the hollow stump bungalow and Uncle Wiggily Longears remained at home, not going adventuring. And the reason for that was this:

The day before, Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy had gone down town shopping to buy a new piano. The gentleman dog in the piano store had promised to send it home next day.

But, all of a sudden, next day, while Nurse Jane was waiting for the piano to come, she found she needed a new pair of stockings.

"Oh, Wiggy!" she cried to Uncle Wiggily. "What shall I do? I ought to go buy a new pair of stockings. Yet if I go, and they bring the piano, they can't leave it, for you will be away adventuring."

"No, I shall stay home," said Uncle Wiggily. "I'll stay home in the bungalow until they bring the new piano. You go get your stockings. After the piano comes I'll go out."

So that's the way it was, and that's why Uncle Wiggily was staying in the hollow stump bungalow. After Nurse Jane had gone he walked to and fro in the bungalow, saying:

"I wish they'd bring that piano!"

He heard, suddenly, a ring at the door bell.

"Please buy a needle!" squeaked the mouse man. "I have a wife and seven little mice children and—"

"Give me a hundred needles!" cried Uncle Wiggily, trying to keep the tears from trickling down his pink nose, because he felt so sorry.

After the mouse peddler had gone, the bell rang again.

"I guess this is the piano," said the bunny.

But it was a little pussy girl selling holders for hot flat irons, and she looked so cold and hungry that Uncle Wiggily bought six.

Upon and down the floor walked the rabbit gentleman, when, all of a quickness, came another ring at the bell.

"I guess this is the tinkler," said the bunny, giving the piano a new name. But it wasn't. It was Baby Bunty.

"Hullo, Uncle Wiggily!" laughed the little rabbit girl. "Will you please give me some bread and sugar. I'm hungry. Please—a nice, big slice of bread with sugar sprinkled on it."

"Oh, come in!" chuckled Mr. Longears. And then he sang "I hope that you have tied your shoe, sugar is sweet and so are you!"

"I'll give you a kiss for that!" cried Baby Bunty, and she did.

Then Uncle Wiggily went out in the kitchen and began making a slice of bread and sugar for the little rabbit girl. He spread just enough butter on the bread to hold the sugar from sliding down hill off it, and Baby Bunty sat in a chair and ate.

"Oh, but it's good!" she murmured. "Why don't you take some yourself, Uncle Wiggily?"

"I believe I shall," spoke the rabbit gentleman. "I may have to stay in all day waiting for the piano."

So Mr. Longears made himself a slice of sugar bread and he and Baby Bunty were sitting there eating, and having a very jolly party, when, all of a sudden, the door bell rang again.

"I guess that's the piano this time, sure," said Uncle Wiggily. "I'll open the door, Bunty, but you mustn't put your sugar sticky paws on the piano keys."

"No, I'll be careful," promised Bunty.

But when Uncle Wiggily opened the door it wasn't at all the nice new piano from the store. Instead, it was the bad old Bob Cat with his silly little tail.

Uncle Wiggily cried:

"Oh, dear me!"

Baby Bunty was just saying:

"Oh, how god his bread and sugar is! Nothing is lovier than bread and sugar! 'I wish everybody in the world had some of Uncle Wiggily's bread and sugar!"

And, just then she saw the Bob Cat pop in and Baby Bunty was so frightened that she screamed:

"Oh, dear me!"

Then she dropped what was left of her bread and sugar on the floor. In came the Bob Cat and his silly little tail.

"I came to nibble ears," he said with a smile, "but first I will eat this!" And he picked up Baby Bunty's bread and sugar from the floor and ate it. I mean he ate the bread and sugar. Then he saw Uncle Wiggily's slice of sugar bread on the table. "And I will eat this," said the Bob Cat.

And when he had eaten that lovely bread and sugar—truly it was so good and delicious that it turned the bad Bob Cat into a good Bob Cat—just for a little while, you know.

"Oh, I feel so jolly good!" cried the Bob Cat. "I guess I won't nibble any ears today. I'm not hungry, anyhow, after that bread and sugar.

"Hello, Uncle Wiggily!"

So out of the bungalow he ran, not nibbling any one. Uncle Wiggily gave Bunty more bread and sugar, and got some himself to calm his nerves. And, when the bell rang next time it was the piano. So everything came out all right.

And if the cow in the moving picture doesn't run so fast that she jumps off the screen and chases the piano player up the aisle, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's shoes.

The publicity committee of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce held a meeting last night to talk over in an informal way various methods of advertising Glendale. All citizens are advised to speak well of Glendale in such places and at such times as will aid in the city's prosperity.

An old Kentucky negro insured his tobacco barn and shortly afterward it was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. Uncle Mose looked forward to the handling of a considerable sum of money as a result of the loss, but instead the insurance company built him a new barn, and showed a clause in his policy which permitted the company to either pay the money value of his loss or provide the equivalent.

Shortly afterwards a life insurence agent called on Uncle Mose and wanted him to take out a policy on his dusky wife, Aunt Eliza. Uncle Mose chased the agent off the premises and said, "I knows what you-all gwan to do in case I takes out this 'surance on 'Liza and she dies. I don't get no money, no sah. Yo' jes' fotch another big fat nigger wench and pass her off as a 'quivilent."

X-RAY TO REVEAL GIRL'S INJURIES

Leoma Crowell, Dragged by Truck, Resting Easily; Father Is Hurt

Leoma Crowell, who was injured Monday afternoon, is resting as easily as can be expected. She was taken to the hospital for X-ray. Dr. Wemple states her collar bone, shoulder and jaw bone are all broken.

On Monday, Mr. Crowell, father of the injured child, fractured two of his lower ribs. Leoma is the youngest Girl Scout in La Crescenta valley. She was dragged thirty feet when run down by a truck on her way home from school.

The school picture show was an immense success, practically all the seats in the school auditorium being full. Next week the picture shown will be "Hunting Wild Animals in Africa," with some good comedy to liven up the bill.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark S. Collins and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Collins were luncheon guests at the Oakmont Country club yesterday, the occasion being Mrs. Mark Collins' birthday.

The revival meetings being held at the La Crescenta Community church are being well attended. Rev. Miller has spoken to the children at school, and also extended a cordial invitation to them to attend the services and bring their parents. The fact that Rev. Miller sings and plays his own accompaniments on a tiny organ appeals to the kiddies, who like him.

Dr. Kelso, pastor of the church, earnestly desires every one who is able to come to the evening services held at the church at 7:30 p. m. every evening. On Friday afternoon the services will be for women and girls only.

Entertains Sister

Mrs. Charles Collins entertained with a birthday party in honor of her sister, Mrs. Mark Collins, yesterday. Guests were: Mr. and Mrs. A. MacDonald of Highway Highlands, Mr. and Mrs. George Carson, Miss G. Fogg, Miss Annie and John Carson, Mr. and Mrs. C. Tillinghost, ex-Governor and Mrs. Plaisted of Maine, Miss A. T. Curry, Professor and Mrs. Newton of Redfield, Maine, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Collins, Mark Collins and the honoree, Mrs. Mark Collins.

An exceptionally large number of ladies attended the Missionary sewing circle and spiritual healing meeting held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Seymour Thomas. Aprons for little girls were cut out and sewed by the ladies of St. Luke of the Mountains' Guild. At 3 o'clock Mr. Villey, assistant to Dr. Renison of Eagle Rock, read from the Scriptures, as Dr. Renison was unable to be present.

Mrs. Mary B. Darron announced that next week's meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Vilna H. Walker, 136 East Prospect avenue, and all future meetings will be held there, as the materials will be left in charge of Mrs. Walker. Mrs. Darron requests all those who have portable machines, electric or otherwise, to bring them on next Wednesday at 1:30 p. m.

Mrs. Scoles Pours

Tea was served after the meeting, Mrs. Emily Scoles of Flintridge presiding at the tea table, while Mrs. Thomas Minford of Verdugo Knolls and Mrs. Sam Woolwine assisted Mrs. Seymour Thomas in serving.

After tea the guests dispersed for a visit to the studio to see the splendid model of the proposed church. This model was built by Seymour Thomas and is complete in every detail. The church carries out the Mission idea and is particularly adapted to the surroundings. The corner stone of the church, "St. Luke of the Mountains," will be laid Easter Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Bishop Johnson will officiate.

Tonight is the La Crescenta night of Community sing. Everyone is cordially invited to attend. Manager Hopkins has procured Miss Ruppel of Sunland to give a program of divertisements. Director Prosper is still in need of some more voices. The meeting will be held at La Crescenta school auditorium and will start at 8:00 p. m. promptly.

Thomas S. Brown and family are the proud possessors of a new automobile. The car is fitted out to the minutest detail, nothing being overlooked to provide comfort for the rider, even to an electric cigar lighter, and a vanity case for the fair members of the family.

Mrs. Jessie Hansen attended the Gail Borden auction held in Alhambra on Tuesday.

Boys Build Radio

The enterprising boys of the local school are rigging up a radio set at the school with the help of the principal, A. T. Blanford.

In about two or three weeks this district will be heard over the radio as the Glee club is to sing and some accomplished pupils will play in a Los Angeles broadcasting studio.

Mr. Blanford is giving the children of the community the latest improvements in education that are being used in the city schools.

Mr. C. Howard is erecting the new garage building for Fred Anderson, realtor, on his Montrose property on Honolulu avenue. The building when completed will house the new Studebaker agency to be run by the Leach brothers.

Summer conditions among office workers are much more healthful, with open windows and fresh air circulating, than in winter when ventilating agencies are closed and the air becomes hot and stagnant, says a medical observer.

Are Women Grown Mannish With Sports And Smokes? Vogue Of Shawl Answers No

By MME. LISBETH

Are women more masculine than thy used to be in grandmother's day? Or are they merely taking advantage of the freedom of the age to get healthful outdoor exercise and to be better companions to their husbands and children and to keep their youth? Well, leaving out the extremists who ape men's manners, habits and clothes and are, I am sure the exceptions that prove the rule, in my opinion women were never more truly feminine at heart.

And if the love of pretty things—clothes especially—is the criterion of their tastes, women never indulged in more colorful, truly feminine things than they do today. Their sports clothes are simple in build and allow freedom of motion but they cannot truly be called mannish—not even the knicker suits.

One of the prettiest of little sports suits is shown on the left of this illustration. Striped flannel is the material used and the way in which the stripes are placed, running vertically in the skirt and horizontally in the jacket, represents the very latest in trimming effects. Gray and black is the color scheme and the jacket is one of the sleeveless models with a narrow grey belt. The skirt is straightline and a pretty washable blouse is worn with the suit.

Another but quite different sports suit is shown on the right. It is one of the knitted suits with a plain skirt and long tunic that slips over the head. It is developed in peach color and the tunic is embroidered in green and rose. A narrow sash of self material ties on the right side for a change. The usual tie is to the left.

These two sports suits surely do not exhibit any undue tendencies toward masculinity. In the center is one of the most truly feminine of all garments—the shawl. Its present vogue is another argument for the love of women for soft, clinging garments and draperies. The one shown is elaborately embroidered in a floral pattern and edged with long, silky fringe.

EAGLE ROCK

SEND ACCOUNT OF TRIP TO FRIENDS

Mr. and Mrs. Ritchey Relate Wonders of Countries Visited by Them

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Ritchey of Maywood avenue, now on a world tour, write to their local friends from Singapore, under date of January 29, stating that they made an eleven day run from Honolulu to Yokohama, and that on their ship, which was in mid-ocean on Christmas day, they had turkey "and all the fixin's" just as though they had been at home.

"Our run through the Inland sea was very beautiful," they write. "We stopped at the sacred isle of Miyajuna, one of the three great sights of Japan, to see the temple there. Dogs, gasoline rickashas, births, deaths, and telegraphs are tabu on the island. Buddha rules supreme. Here we saw the famed Geisha dance given in our honor and the way they gave it was graceful and interesting.

"Our stay in Java was very interesting, for the tropical country is here in all of its beauty. Our first day we went to the famous botanical garden at Buitenzorg, 40 miles inland. Java is under Dutch rule, has been for 300 years. On the whole they seem to have done a good part for the natives. We went to Garoet, up in the mountains, where we saw rice growing and the mountains terraced clear to the top. All of the land is in cultivation. The people are clean and contented with better houses than in some other countries.

Notables On Board

"We are now on our way to Calcutta and Bombay, then a five day trip to Agra and Delhi, then to Jersualem, March 3rd, Naples March 10th. Our ship has about 410 passengers on board, coming from 42 states and several foreign countries. Among them are: Mr. and Mrs. Young from South America; Senor Blasco Ibanez, author of "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," from Spain. Several French people and Mrs. Alec Tweedy, the English authoress, Rev. Ritchie, wife and mother from Leicester, England, besides other English people. There are several ex-governors and Congressmen from our country and Mr. Bryan's grand-daughter on her bridal trip. We have had two deaths among the seamen, one buried at sea. We have romance too. One engagement has been announced and the marriage will occur soon and others may be announced later. It is a great trip for us and we are thankful for the opportunity of it."

Plan Long Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rublee of Ellenwood drive have left for San Francisco, where they will embark for Honolulu on a month's vacation trip. Mr. Rublee is a teller at the First National bank of Los Angeles. The First National Bank of Los Angeles, entertained Mr. and Mrs. Rublee with a farewell dinner last Wednesday night. Nine of the members of the department with their wives and friends were guests.

BURBANK

SUGGEST FILLING WATER CHANNELS

City Planning Commission Favor Making Kenneth Road Smoother

The city planning commission has adopted a resolution suggesting to the Board of Trustees that the deep water channels at the intersections along Kenneth road and Sixth street be partially filled up, so that they may not continue to aggravate the motoring public, who regard them as needless "thank-you-Marms."

The channels were constructed to carry off flood water from the hills but F. Curt Miller, city engineer, says that they will serve this purpose even when partially filled up.

"Particularly in view of the county planning commission's plan to make Kenneth road a foothill boulevard for the entire San Fernando valley, and a connecting link in the great Mulholland 'skyline' drive now under construction," says Mr. Miller, "it would be wise to make it as smooth as possible."

City Can't Buy Site

The law is cited by City Attorney E. E. Kirk to show that Burbank cannot vote the proposed bonds and purchase the fifty-acre industrial site under consideration. A holding company may be formed to do just this, however. Mr. Kirk points out. The opinion was rendered in response to a request from the Chamber of Commerce, as to the legality of the contemplated action.

Municipalities may purchase real estate only for municipal purposes, declares Mr. Kirk, and he gives a number of citations to prove the point.

It is thought that the committee on industrial development will now approach the matter from another angle, possibly forming such a holding company as outlined.

Greet Newlyweds

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Pfeifer of 727 Santa Anita avenue, had a big surprise awaiting when they returned to their little "love nest" last week, after a brief honeymoon at Big Bear lake. Nailed up over the front door was a sign reading "Just Arrived!" While other examples of the sign maker's art, tacked here and there about the premises, read "Mama Love Papa!" "Two Hearts that Beat as One," etcetera.

But this was only the start of the jokesters' efforts. The newlyweds next beheld on the roof of their little domicile all the movable property on the premises, including a wheel-barrow, automobile tires, step-ladder and sundry and other implements of husbandry.

The bride was Miss Petzold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Petzold of Los Angeles. Mr. Pfeifer works in Glendale.

WANT INELIGIBLE ALIENS KEPT OUT

Californian Delegations in Capital Ask Passage of New Laws

WASHINGTON, Mar. 20.—The California congressional delegation meeting with representatives of the American Legion, California Federation of Labor, the State Grange and the Native Sons of the Golden West adopted a resolution recommending the exclusion as permanent residents of all aliens now ineligible for citizenship. The meeting was attended by Ex-Senator Phelan, Republican of California; V. S. McClatchy of Sacramento and State Attorney-General Webb. The conference urged the passage of the House immigration bill in its present form, because it contained a clause barring ineligible aliens.

"Japan has protested against this legislation and she is the only nation which has protested," said a statement adopted by the conference. "The measure is not discriminatory against Japan for it applies to half the population of the globe."

Would Cancel Treaty

The Californians also urged cancellation of the "gentleman's agreement" on immigration with Japan. They termed this agreement as "surrendering to Japan the soverign right of the United States to determine what immigrants shall enter our borders." They denounced the agreement as having been violated.

They recommended that in the future the United States should determine which aliens should enter, making allowances only for tourists, students and merchants.

San Francisco Kids See First White Deer

SAN FRANCISCO, March 20.—Presenting a picture familiar to the heart of every child who has read Grimm's fairy tales, two white deer, the first ever seen in California, have arrived here from Nicaragua.

Juan B. Molina, owner of a big plantation at Estell, Nicaragua, brought the white deer here as a gift to his son from the only herd of its kind in the world.

Molina set out twenty years ago to breed the animals. He crossed the lightest colored animals he could find, and eventually a pure white deer was produced. He continued with his experiment until he had a fixed breed. In his herd of white deer the fawns all come true to type now.

Molina's son plans to present the two albino deer, a buck and a doe, to one of San Francisco's parks.

Aluminum splints that can easily be adjusted, are being advocated in the middle west.

Glendale Center of Traffic Wanted—Summer Tourists Also, Empire Builders Smile at the Pessimists

By Gil A. Cowan

The future holds much in store for Glendale in the matter of railroads and motor traffic. The opening of the new Southern Pacific station next week is but a step toward the ultimate in the growth of a greater metropolitan district. Pasadena, Hollywood—more famed than Glendale—will have to look to this city for their outlet in this respect.

Already the motor routes are carrying all the traffic that they can bear through Glendale and its environs. As time goes on the system will be strengthened by Riverside drive, which will have its laterals into this city. It is topographically natural for the ebb and flow northward from Los Angeles to center here.

More important, however, from the standpoint of city building, is the seeming surety of the Santa Fe coming south through the mountains from Bakersfield and passing through Glendale. William B. Storey, president of the system, was in Bakersfield this week and announced that a survey had been completed. He did not venture to say when work on the cut-off would be started. Nevertheless, there is every reason to believe that the Santa Fe is now planning a $30,000,000 expenditure on this line within the next few years.

An authority on railroading told the writer yesterday that there is every reason to believe the Santa Fe will enter Los Angeles through Glendale, due to the peculiar topography of the San Fernando valley and its relation to the Los Angeles river. Certainly it would seem that the Santa Fe is interested in Glendale, it having established a city ticket office here.

With an additional transcontinental railway, as well as two interurban lines, Glendale would have all the transportation service available to other southland cities. And all because it is logically located. We must not forget that paramount fact in telling the story of "the fastest growing city in America."

The winter tourist season is coming to a close. Many of our eastern friends, who have sojourned in the southland, are now planning their return to the less favored climes. No doubt they would be pleased to remain, but business calls them to the middle west and east. However, may we not suggest that they tell those people seeking an ideal summer vacation that the Pacific coast offers "all-year" entertainment.

Southern California is particularly ideal during the months of May, June and July. A motor trip through the west is a liberal education. It is too bad that more cannot make it than those who do, for it gives the kiddies an idea of the vastness of this nation.

Ere another season rolls 'round it is to be hoped that Glendale will have one or more large tourist hotels. Due to the larger profits made in homebuilding, this need has not been met by otherwise willing investors. Glendale and southern California need capital for such enterprises.

Our friends returning to the east will confer a favor on those here by urging their wealthy citizens to "come west." We need them to aid in building. Too many without trades, without money, without ability, have come here, only to learn they are not wanted. They are the disgruntled ones—not those who are enjoying life in California as they never knew it before.

The call goes out for empire builders now, as well as summer tourists. We need both in the southland.

Once upon a time—you may imagine this is a story, yet it is true—there was a plumber who was wooing a telephone operator. It was reported they were married. The writer proceeded to do the young couple justice. Instead, we were the victim of a terrible mistake. As Mark Twain might have remarked, "The report of their marriage was greatly exaggerated."

The plumber walked into the office and mistook the writer for a piece of gaspipe. He endeavored to forever choke the flow of words from their source. Death stared us in the face, but, for some unknown reason, this near tragedy was humorous. We laughed.

Now there is nothing quite so disconcerting as optimism. A hearty laugh relieves many a serious mood. The smile drives dull care away. And certainly it saved our precious life in Jerome, Ariz., on the particular day the plumber took offense at his obituary—beg pardon, we meant to say marriage—which didn't happen.

There are pessimists who would like to choke our prosperity. They are like bear traders. Nobody knows how they get that way, but they are. Some of them having nothing better to do. But they are easily scared out. All you have to do is scorn them with a smile.

And you might throw in a handful of odious comparisons when they start their talky talk. Room and board in Hutchinson, Kan., for $4 a week. Three times that much is paid here.

More than a million men are out of work in the British Isles. Try to hire a brickmason or a plumber or a finish carpenter here. Some there may be, but they are not complaining. Fact is, they are getting such high wages that many people are deferring building.

Real estate is moving, now that the income tax is out of the way for another year. Why, you ought to have heard the prosperous traders in real property crying over the taxes they had to pay. But, after the tooth is pulled, as they say in the dentists' ads, the patient smiles.

Let's pull the teeth of the pessimist. Yes, do a little more boosting. And smile all the while.

Equal Rights Act Unnecessary, Says Woman Politician

Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton

The "equal rights" amendment for which the National Women's Party is campaigning is unnecessary, declares Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton, vice chairman of the Republican national executive committee, therefore she goes on record against it. "I am particularly opposed to it," she explains, "because it will do away with the protective laws for women for which we have worked for so many years."

Circus Folk Rush to Assist Former Star

NEW YORK, Mar. 20.—News that Billy Showles, once champion bareback rider of the world, lay dying at Bellevue hospital, brought a score of circus folk to his bedside yesterday.

The former star of the tanbark is in delirium. Again he lives the days of glory he once knew.

Billy Showles was the star of the "big tops," the featured attraction with Barnum and Bailey, Ringling brothers and Forepaugh-Sells. He made $400 a week then. For thirty-five years he was the envy of his profession.

A few days ago hospital authorities found "William Showles, elevator operator," suffering from an incurable disease in a tiny east side flat. He sought to conceal his identity.

Denies Contract Made With British for Oil

WASHINGTON, Mar. 20.—Edward L. Doheny, oil magnate involved in the senate's investigation into the leasing of the naval oil reserves, late yesterday passed the "lie" to Henry Woodhouse, New York writer who testified on Tuesday that Doheny had entered into an agreement with the British government whereby Great Britain got "first call" on oil from naval reserve No. 1.

"The statement of Woodhouse is an unqualified falsehood," declared a statement issued here by Doheny's attorney, Frank J. Hogan. "When Woodhouse says he has seen a contract guaranteeing such sale, he simply lies."

L. A. Utility Company Gives Revenue Report

SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 20.—The Los Angeles Gas and Electric corporation, operating in Los Angeles, Pasadena and vicinity, reported to the railroad commission late yesterday that its operating revenue for the year 1923 was: electric $3,926,340.59; gas $8,651,951.44, a total of $12,578,292.03. Its operating expenses were electric $2,097,291,17, and gas $6,296,042.89, a total of $8,393,333.86; giving a net operating revenue of electric $1,829,049.42 and gas $2,355,908.75; a total of $4,184,958.17. Miscellaneous non-operating revenue amounted to $139,150. Interest, rent and other deductions totalled $2,175,098.08.

Hold Two in Death of Woman at Kansas City

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Mar. 20.—Two men are being held for further questioning in connection with the murder of Dr. Zoe Wilkins, who was found stabbed to death in her home Tuesday night. They are Charles Wilkins, brother of the slain woman, and Dillard Davis, negro janitor at the Wilkins home, the last person to see the doctor alive last Saturday.

Macdonald Will Ask Prince Not to Ride

LONDON, Mar. 20.—Premier Ramsay Macdonald will appeal to the Prince of Wales to give up horse riding because of the risk, according to the Star.

In the old Scottish Hallowe'en game each took home the stalk of a cabbage and laid it behind the outside door; the first person to enter next morning was the future husband or wife.

A theatre manager was arrested here because he allowed chickens to do their tricks on his stage on a Sunday. They might watch the parks, too.—Youngstown (O.) Vindicator.

Author of Diet and Health with Key to the Calories

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

J.:—You say you have to be fed through a rubber tube inserted in an opening in your stomach because the esophagus (tube leading to the stomach) is closed up from the burns caused by swallowing a mouthful of strong ammonia water. You ask me if something can be done for you.

If the esophagus is not wholly closed up by scar tissue, physicians are sometimes able to stretch the opening by the insertion of gradually increasing sizes of instruments called bougies. I presume in your case the tube must be wholly closed.

If you are not satisfied that your physician has done all he can for you, ask him to call in a consultant. You might have to go to one of the larger cities, where they have what is known as bronchoscopic clinics. I had an article a short time ago, warning mothers that washing fluids are poisonous.

Unfortunately, washing fluids are not always labeled with poison-scare labels, as they should be, and mothers do not realize what terrible disasters can come from leaving these things around, or in not carefully rinsing the dishes which they use for measuring the fluids.

Individual mothers, parent-teacher organizations and women's clubs should write to their state representatives calling attention to this urgent need of a law compelling the manufacturers of such fluids to label them with poison-scare labels (if yours is one of the states which still have no such law).

I wish I could hold out more hope to you, J. I sincerely hope you will not have to continue being fed as you have to be now for the rest of your life—but if you have to be, try not to let it spoil your life. The fact that you have lived seven years since the accident shows that you can get enough nourishment this way, and one thing is certain, you will escape a lot of disorders that our F. F. F. (friendly fat fraternity) fall heir to.

Mrs. W. H.:—The primary cause of the formation of stones and gravel in the kidneys and bladder is not fully known. But, whatever the primary cause is, the immediate cause is the over-saturation of the urine with waste minerals or a change in the composition in the urine, so that its solvent power is lessened.

Stones in the gall bladder often seem to come after a bacterial infection, such as typhoid; but, according to Stevens, the bacterial infection does not seem to be the cause in kidney and bladder stones.

Incorrect diet—especially one too high in acid-forming elements—and over-eating, undoubtedly are factors in the causation of kidney and bladder stones by causing the urine to become too concentrated, and by injuring the kidneys.

It has been found that the alkali salts are deficient in the blood and urine in cases of stones. The alkalinizing foods are the vegetables, especially potatoes and the green vegetables, and milk and fruits (especially canteloupe). These should form the bulk of the diet. Best omit breads and cereals and take potatoes instead, because potatoes are highly alkalinizing. Flesh foods, eggs, alcohol, tea, coffee and spices should be avoided. Abundant water drinking between meals is important. The alkalinizing diet is especially important in regions where the water is very hard.

Stones of any size can be seen with the X-ray. If the stones are large, surgical removal is the only thing that offers permanent relief.

Mrs. G.:—The time of the cessation of menstruation, or the menopause, seems to be more or less of an inherited characteristic, the average time being about 48 years of age. After 45 it can be expected. If you cease menstruating at 38, it would be a premature menopause. The fact that your menstrual cycle is a little less than usual is no cause for hastening the menopause. The menstrual cycle (time that elapses between menstruating periods) varies in different cases.

Miss Elsie:—I feel sure you will be helped in the care of your sick brother by sending for the article on tuberculosis I have prepared for you.

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s. a. s. e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Heart and Home Problems

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

KEPT AT HOME

Dear Mrs. Thompson—I am a girl nearly 16 years old. My parents will not let me go out with boys or even talk to them at church. I am a junior at high school and yet they say that I will have to wait until I am old enough to earn my own living. They won't even let me dance. Do you think that this is right. Don't you think that I ought to be able to go to high school entertainments? What could I say to them to persuade them to let me go with boys?

I have many girl friends who are just as old as I am and several younger who go with boys to high school entertainments. Don't you think that I ought to be able to go?

There is a boy who goes to our school and I like him very much. I have never met him. How could I get acquainted with him?

S. J. C.

It seems to me that you ought to be allowed to attend school entertainments since you are a junior. Of course you are rather young to be so far advanced in school, but since you are and the social side of school life has its value, too, it seems to me a mistake to keep you away. Your parents, however, have a right to decide the matter, and without a doubt they believe they are acting for your good. Do not argue the matter much. Study hard and be obedient, and then when a party takes place ask them again to let you attend.

It is not necessary for you to have an introduction to a schoolmate. When you see the boy on the street, speak as you would to any of the other boys at school. If he is interested he will make an effort to further the acquaintance, but if he is not, there is nothing for you to do.

HE WAS MARRIED

Dear Mrs. Thompson—I am engaged to a young man who has been going with me for three years. He seemed to be a nice boy.

The other day I received a letter from his wife. I was so surprised when I heard he was married and had three children.

He came to see me and I showed him the letter. He threw it at me when he saw the handwriting, for he knew who it was from. He denied being married, but I wouldn't let him come to see me any more.

I still love him and know he loves me.

He is going with another girl now. Do you think it better for me to tell the girl about him or not? Please tell me, as I am anxious. WORRIED WILMA.

First, let me take time to commend you heartily for your courage and principle, both in showing the young man the letter and in refusing to see him any more. Do not tell the young woman he is now deceiving. That would put you in a very false light. However, there could be no harm in letting the wife know so she could do again as she did with you. Be thankful for your moral stamina and forget the man. He does not love you, being incapable of real love, apparently. He is entirely unworthy of even your merest thought and you are too fundamentally fine to waste time on him.

The following directions are for a knitted Lady's V Necked Slip-over Sweater, size 36 to 38. Materials: three balls each of blue and nickel-color iceland wool, and one pair each of number three, and number four and one-half bone or celluloid knitting needles.

Back: With one thread of each color and using the number four and one-half needles, cast on 81 stitches and work in the following fancy rib pattern: Row 1: * K 2, P 2, repeat from *, ending P2, K1, repeat Row 1, working five inches, then change to the number three needles and work the Hemstitching as follows:

Row One of Hemstitching: With wrong side toward you, P across. Row Two: K 1, * yarn over needle, K 2 together, repeat from * across. Row Three: P across. Row Four: K plain, change to the number four and one-half needles and knit plain till the work measures ten inches from the hemstitching. Then decrease one stitch at each end, every other row seven times, and continue till armhole measures six inches. On the next row work first 22 stitches off onto a stitch-holder, bind off 23 for neck, and on the remaining 22 start the front as follows:

Front: Bind off two stitches every other row, at neck end, twice, on remaining 18 stitches. Knit two inches, then increase one stitch toward the front every fourth row, 19 times, but when the armhole measures 11 inches increase one stitch every other row, toward armhole eight times. After the 19 stitches have been added toward the front, continue till underarm seam measures ten inches, slip onto a stitch-holder, and work second front this far. Now work the stitches of both fronts onto one needle, increase one stitch, having 91 stitches on needle, change to the number three needles again, and work hemstitching the same as before (that is, to match the back); work also five inches of fancy rib pattern as before, to correspond with back, and bind off loosely.

Sleeves: With the number four and one-half needles pick up 54 stitches around armhole, work Hemstitching, then knit plain till sleeve measures 13 inches in length; change to number three needles, work hemstitching again, finish with two ribs, knit plain once around, and bind off.

Finish Around the Deep V-Neck: With number four and one-half needles, pick up the stitches on both fronts and around the neck; work a row of hemstitching, finish with two ribs, K plain around once, bind off, and sew ends neatly in place.

BEAUTY CHATS

Yesterday when talking about facial massage we got as far as treating the eyes and forehead. You are using two fingers of each hand and the skin has been thickly coated with a nourishing cold cream. You have already massaged all the lower part of the face and neck, raising all the sagging muscles around the mouth.

Place the fingertips on the eyelids at the nose, stroke very gently over the eyelids, so gently that there is no pressure at all on the eyeball. In fact, the fingers should pass just under the eyebrow. At the end of the eyebrow where all the crows' feet spread, press quite firmly and continue the pressure under the eye to the nose and directly upwards across the forehead to the hair. The end of this stroke follows the little wrinkles that so often come between the eyes and crosses the three deep furrows that form on the forehead. When you have finished the massage of the eyes stroke across the forehead once more from the top of the nose outwards fanwise to the hair until you have covered all the skin.

These directions are specifically for wrinkles. But if you are massaging the face merely to stimulate the skin or to take away a tired expression you need not bother with these elaborate directions. In this case use two or three fingers of each hand, whichever is more convenient, and use a circular movement. This is most stimulating and is the best form of massaging for sallowness and a sluggish condition of the skin. It is also good if the massage is to work cleansing cream into the skin to eliminate blackheads.

After any kind of massage wipe over the face with a cloth wrung from hot water to remove the superfluous cream. End with a cold rinse, or spray the skin with toilet vinegar or toilet water.

Smiley—I do not know of any preparation to make teeth sparkle.

Marie—Witch hazel is often used to close the pores after cleansing or shaving. It would be of no use in clearing the skin of blackheads. If you have enlarged pores use very cold water or rub with a small piece of ice, after you have cleared the skin of all soil.

Anxious Inquirer—There are a number of preparations similar to the one you mention, and they are mixtures of henna and dye.

A Reader—Your red hands may come from poor circulation or from digestive troubles. Build up your health in any way that may be needed. Drink plenty of water between meals and try to improve the circulation in the hands through massage. Massage each finger, then palms and back of hands, continuing the motion, which should be rotary, all the way up the forearm to the elbow.

T. M.—At 19 years, height five feet, two inches, weight should be 115 pounds.

Tomorrow—The Feet in Spring

With the Women of Today

By MRS. LILIAN CAMPBELL

We hear a great deal of criticism of the modern girl. Men and women who are at the head of institutions of learning are surely in a position to know something about that young person—the girl of today. Listen to what some of these people have to say about her:

President H. N. MacCracken, president of Vassar college:

Miss Jane Scott

"What we need is to be infected with youth. Then we will understand better what youth is driving at, and youth will have more tolerance for what we think and say. Youth hasn't been living in a vacuum. The modern girl sees all of life that she can see. We can learn a great deal from her. We've learned that she has a fine mind, that she has originality and that she can apply herself to scholastic work with brilliant results. Let's stop criticising the modern girl. I think one of our teachers hit the nail on the head the other day when she said that the conduct of the observed was apt to be reflected by the mind of the observer."

Dean Virginia Gildersleeve of Barnard college remarks: "It is true that a good many of the younger generation do foolish things at times, but so have they always done in the past. For the young women of the present I have great respect. They seem to me on the whole an admirable lot."

Miss Mary E. Woolley, president of Mt. Holyoke college: "Notwithstanding the fact that the modern girl's sport clothes would have seemed remarkable ten years ago and her manner somewhat frank and outspoken, I find her just as responsive and earnest as the girl of yesterday, and perhaps more self-reliant and independent."

Miss Ada L. Comstock, president of Radcliffe, mentions restlessness alone as a possible danger to the steady development of the modern girl. "She is, on the whole," she says, "more intelligent than her mother."

Try This Way To Get Relief From Head Colds

Nothing to Swallow—You Just Melt a Little in a Spoon and Breathe in the Healing Vapors.

To stop a head-cold, try this simple, direct method. Melt a little Vicks in a spoon and inhale the penetrating Vapors of Camphor, Menthol, Eucalyptus, Juniper Tar, etc. Also put a little up each nostril and snuff well back.

Another method is to heat a tin cup, put in a teaspoonful of Vicks and inhale the vapors that way. As fast as the vapors lose their strength, throw out the melted Vicks and add fresh.

Mothers prefer Vicks for their children because it avoids so much internal dosing. It can be used with perfect safety on the youngest child.

Advises Ordinary Buttermilk for Wrinkles and Enlarged Pores

This Good Looking Young Woman Uses Old Time Recipe of Buttermilk Cream in a New Way—A Gentle Massage with Fingers Before Retiring All That Is Necessary.

The old-time application of Buttermilk and Cream to whiten and preserve the skin and remove harsh little wrinkles and ugly sallowness is in grandmother's recipe and women throughout the country are again using it to ensure a beautiful complexion and snow-white hands and arms.

Buttermilk, however, is not always obtainable, but a specialist has at last perfected a method of concentrating buttermilk and combining it with a perfect cream, which you can buy in small quantities ready to use at any first-class drug store by simply asking for "Howard's Buttermilk Cream."

There is no secret about it nor is there any doubt about the result—it's just a common ordinary buttermilk in the form of a wonderful cream. That's all. Howard's Buttermilk Cream gently massaged with the finger tips around the corners of the eyes and mouth.

To get the best effect, be sure to follow the simple directions. Druggists guarantee a noticeable improvement after the first application or they will refund the money.

ROPEAN MITT ARMADA PLANS AMERICAN COUP

rry Levine to Tote String f Highly Touted Ring Boxers Here Shortly

By LUTHER A. HUSTON
r International News Service

ONDON, March 20.—Invasion America by European boxers erto have been undertaken fly by individual scrappers, a mass attack upon America's ng prestige is shortly to be e by an imposing array of world knuckle-dusters.

he generalissimo of the invad- army is Harry Levine, who aged Augie Ratner, the Amer- middleweight, during his in Europe last year. He will assisted by John Alff, a French ng manager and trainer, and star of the stable which Le- and Alff will transport across Atlantic is Billy Mascart, the opean featherweight champion. Mascart's objective in the ted States will be a match Johnny Dundee for the ld's featherweight title. Since retirement of Eugene Criqui, scart has come to the front as best of the European feath- and he believes he is good ugh to give Dundee a run for money. Mascart is not en- ly a stranger to American ing fans, as he has performed re before.

Two Belgians in Stable

Two Belgian mitt-wielders will ncluded in the entourage. One these is Pete Hobin, a welter- ght, who is eager to take on key Walker in a championship t. Hobin also has been in the ted States before, and claims t he once knocked out Walker the seventh round in a bout ged before Mickey had acquired welterweight title. The other therweight, who has made quite eputation in European circles, chief claim to distinction being wenty-round draw with Criqui. f the claims of the European mada" are correct Luis Angel po has a new rival in the vyweight ranks, who, curiously ugh, also hails from south of equator. Included in the Le- e-Alff menage is Ramon Rojas, o is a native of Chile, but who absorbed most of his fistic ining in Europe. Rojas is a ge young man with large ideas. thinks it is incumbent upon n first to demonstrate that he, i not "Dead Pan' Luis, is the l creme de la creme of South erican heavyweights. Having complished this, he is perfectly lling to allow public opinion to ce him into a bout with Demp- , provided the promoters talk financial language he can un- rstand.

Lonely Featherweight

The real treat for American xing fans, so far as this old- rld aggregation of scrappers is ncerned, will be Ernie Izzard. nie is a featherweight, and the ly Englishman in the outfit. claims to be the feather- ight champion of England, hich gives him a title for ad- rtising purposes. What makes nie an attraction, however, is t his title, but his shape. He is feet 10½ inches tall and weighs 2 pounds. Physically speaking, is a boxing freak, built along e general lines of a wireless rial; but those who have seen m in action declare he knows w to manage his longitude and at his lack of latitude is no par- ular handicap to him in the ng.

According to present plans, the oyaging boxers will sail for New ork at an early date and will e ready to listen to the conversa- on of any promoters or manag- s who care to join the welcom- g delegation at the dock.

Student Body Heads To Settle Supremacy

Leslie Cummins, president of the student body of the Southern Branch of the University of California, has issued a formal challenge to Harold Wagner and Harry Silke, presidents of the student organizations at Occidental college and the University of Southern California, respectively, daring them to appear at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon on Moore field, S. B. U. C., and enter into a three-cornered presidential race for one lap around the cinder path. This will settle forever the ancient dispute over the athletic prowess of the three institutions, declares Cummins. "There has long been a feud over our respective abilities on the athletic field and it must be settled now," said the contestant from the Cub institution.

Both Wagner and Silke have accepted the challenge with delight and are in strict training for the track meet. The challenger is in the pink of condition and ready to go. He has chosen a day most convenient to him and when the entire University male population will be on hand to cheer him in his proposed victory.

Robber Is Felled by Boy With Scantling

BELOIT, Wis., March 20.—Two negro bandits made the mistake of holding up David Wilson, of Blue Island, Ill., in front of his fraternity house and trying to make away with his wealth, amounting to twenty-seven cents. The robbers had barely covered two blocks when they were overtaken by a posse of pajama-clad Beloit College students who had come to the rescue of their companion.

Facing the fire of a 32-calibre revolver held by one of the stick-up men, three of the students advanced, and, while Carl Beerwald, of Milwaukee, argued with him. Robert Irvine, of New York, attacked him from the rear, and Teddy Scurota came in on the flank and downed him with a well-aimed blow on the head with a two-by-four. After recovering the 27 cents from him, the bad man was turned over to the police. The other bandit escaped, but was taken into custody the following day in Rockford.

"That's the spirit that won the war," said the Rockford chief of police, who is an ex-service man.

A vein of quicksilver, seven miles long and from two to six feet wide, it is said, has been discovered near Kita Uonome in the Goto Archipelago.

That chlorine could be used to prevent or cure colds, influenza or pneumonia, was discovered accidentally during the last war.

Three Rookies Labor At White Sox Camp For Chance To Fill Ray Schalk's Shoes

The three White Sox catching hopefuls and the shoes they hope some day to fill. At left, Ferguson, Center, Clyde Crouse, Right, Burns

By NORMAN E. BROWN

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., March 20.—There's a merry little battle being staged on the White Sox baseball oasis here for the honor of substituting for Ray Schalk, veteran catcher of the White Sox and the ultimate laurels of filing his shoes when age takes its toll.

The word oasis fits admirably. The playing field is of Kentucky grass. This green spot lies on the edge of town in a sandy waste. The auto roads leading to the grandstand are merely hubdeep groves in white sand.

But the field itself is in superb shape. The outfield is one of the best in the baseball state. Like the diamond of the Boston Braves in St. Petersburg, the top layer of soil for the base paths is of imported material.

To get back to the catching. There is no thought now that Schalk will not carry the White Socks' burden behind the plate at least another season. He may be slipping a bit, but he still has several miles to volplane before he will weaken any big league baseball combination. However, Ray himself realizes that he cannot carry the whole burden forever and is working with Manager Chance and his aides in developing a relief man and eventual successor.

The three young hopefuls who are now striving, to prove that they have the makings are Clyde Crouse, Jim Burns and Dooley Ferguson

Burns comes to the Sox from the Shreveport club, Crouse from the Muskegon, Mich., team and Freguson from the college ranks in Texas.

Burns Has the Edge

All three have yet to cut their eye teeth. Burns seems to have had the most experience. With the Shreveport club in the Texas league last season he worked in ninety-three games behind the bat. While his fielding was not better than fair, his whip attracted attention. He accepted 430 chances—311 putouts, 102 assists and seventeen that he booted. He led the league by a big margin in assists. Bischoff, working in over 100 games for Wichita Falls, collected but eighty-two.

Burns had but fair success with the bat, hitting only .243 in 115 games. This poor record was due partly to a batting fault in the opinion of Sox vets.

Crouse, a Muncie, Ind., kid, was given a tryout by the Sox last season and then shipped to Muskegon in the Michigan-Ontario league. He not only showed promise behind the platter but socked the ball for a .293 average.

Ferguson is a newcomer in professional baseball. He made quite a rep around Texas, however, and the thing that impresses Ed Walsh, for one, is that the kid handles himself well behind the plate, keeping himself behind every ball and getting his throws away without loss of time.

Schalk is helping all three of the hopefuls with the generous spirit that is typical of him. "If you guys will only get going maybe I'll get a chance to pitch," says "Cracker."

Has Pitching Pains

The wizard catcher apparently mothers a long growing ambition to take the other end of the firing line. Ray might get away with it, at that. He has several pitching faults however. "One is that he can't get the ball past the batter—when he gets it in the general direction of home. This can be remedied, however, so can his wildness. Lee Fohl once got Grover Lowdermilk to pitch three strikes in a row by having him aim at first base.

Ray also has a foot fault. He raises his left leg with all the grace of a motion picture star but there the matter—and the leg—rests. He hasn't developed the knack of making it help his delivery by coming down at the same time he throws.

When a demon photographer started to take a photo of Ray's shoes—the ones that Burns, Crouse and Ferguson all hope to wear some day—Ray explained:

"These are my second best ones. I didn't bring my Sunday ones along."

A minute later he was working with Burns behind the plate while the pitchers lobbed them over for batting practice.

NEED BANCROFT ON GIANT SQUAD

Baseball's Best Shortstop Would Help Infielders, Jackson Slipping

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service

NEW YORK, Mar. 20.—Between the lines of training camp masterpieces from Sarasota, Fla., has run a rather poignant note to the effect that all is not well with Travis Jackson, the young man John McGraw esteemed so highly that he traded one of the best shortstops in baseball right out of New York. At the time McGraw made moderate claims of greatness for Jackson and intimated that while Dave Bancroft was a most worthy individual, his passing from the so-called "million dollar" infield would prove a mere nothing.

It is insinuated now, however, that our Mr. McGraw may have committed a faux pas.

Jackson is neither hitting nor fielding after the manner of his 1923 performances. In fact the situation has become such that there is some talk of a general shift in the Giant array.

May Shift Frisch

If Jackson continues in his slump it is said that McGraw will revive attempts to cull an experienced infielder from the possession of some other National league club. Failing in this, the report has it he may shift Frank Frisch to shortstop and try to get results at second base from Fred Maguire or Fred Lindstrom, recruits, or else bring Ross Young in from the outfield.

All of these have the outward appearances of desperate moves, calculated to weaken the defense of what was an extremely efficient infield combination.

Frisch, a great second baseman, might be a flop at shortstop. Maguire is a good fielder but cannot hit; at least he has given no evidence of the fact that he can. Lindstrom seems to be a fine prospect but you cannot tell a book by its cover nor gold by its glitter. Young was once an infielder but thought better of it. Perhaps he was right.

Groh Not Certain

Unless Jackson comes through, the great infield of the Giants will be no more. Two of its remaining members, in fact, are not altogether certain of themselves. Heinie Groh is hitting and fielding well, according to reports, but has not recovered from his operation to the extent that he is letting himself out. Fear is felt that Groh will be unable to stand up under the strain of 154 ball games.

George Kelly at first base has failed to strike his stride to date and is being considerably worried by the pernicious activities of Bill Terry, Toledo recruit, who is fielding acceptably and hitting like a mad man. Still, it is hardly likely that Kelly will be replaced or that Groh will fail to start the season at third base.

It is simply the fact that a certainty has become very uncertain. With Bancroft at shortstop the difficulty would be largely eliminated. He isn't.

It would seem therefore that McGraw has placed all of his chips on one card and perhaps has overplayed his hand.

Mexico is to send representatives to compete in the Olympic games in Paris next summer. Retreats of the revolutionists will be watched by experts in the hope of picking out some star runners.

K. C.'S NEW TEAM TO PLAY SUNDAY

Glendale and Long Beach to Tangle at Local Park in League Game

The newly organized Glendale K. C. team of the Southern California K. C. league will make its bow to the Glendale fans at the White Sox park next Sunday against Long Beach. The game will be called at 12:30 in order that the Sox and the Merchants from Pasadena may tangle at 2:30.

In the first game of the schedule last Sunday the local Caseys bested Hollywood 5-3. The surprise of the day was the hurling of Galliger, dug up by Captain Harry Manush. Galliger had not worked any for three years, but he stood the Hollywood artists on their heads until the seventh inning, when he slackened down and three runs scored. Manush was so pleased with his find that he is grooming him for the regular pitcher. Perroni will do the receiving.

Aside from the honor of winning the pennant, the leading team will get to play at the state K. C. convention at Pasadena in May, which should enrich to the club's treasury to a great extent.

Oxy Freshmen Track Team Meets L. A. High

The Oxy freshmen track team will attempt to continue their lucky winning streak when they hook up with Los Angeles High school on Patterson Field Friday afternoon. The Romans last Friday collected 96½ points to 26½ for Franklin High. The Tiger youngsters lost only one meet so far this season. Last Saturday afternoon they lost to the San Diego State Teachers' College on their home track by a score of 60 to 71.

GROOM FISH FOR 440 YARD SPRINT

High School Athletes Take Stiff Training Course For Track Meet

Coach Normal Hayhurst was too busy yesterday afternoon putting his athletes through the hoops to stop and talk much track, but after following him around for about half an hour, we did get hold of the fact that he expects Fish to make the rest of the Central league look sick from now on.

Mr. Fish specializes in the 440, and twice has nicked it off in 53 flat, which is not so bad for a high school performer at this time of the year. Hayhurst expects that he can clip a few seconds off of this if the occasion demands it, and is grooming him as a sure point winner in the big event to be staged in May at Patterson Field.

Hayhurst's dash men have got to speed up if they expect to get in on the points. Purdy looks like the best bet in the century, and with a little development might be able to place well in future competitions. Lavelle is hurling the discus so far it would take a retriever half a day to bring it home, and ought to be good for some counters in this event. The vaulters have not been setting the upper part of the universe afire as they cleared the bar, but are showing improvement.

Coach Butterfield and his diamond proteges are in hopes of bringing home a pennant this year. With eleven of last year's veterans on the roll and several promising youngsters working out, the competition has been very keen. The pitching is well taken care of and Butterfield has been able to look after his infield and outfield. He has been giving the youngsters stiff hitting practice this week, endeavoring to locate their eyes on the old apple.

Sport Sparks

The pessimists have been saying for a long time that, bit by bit, all romance is being taken out of sports. Guess they're right. The French health officials have put a ban on the habit of boxing opponents kissing each other at the close of a bout. They must be content with shaking hands. Health reasons are assigned as the cause of this drastic measure. Yep, the pessimists are right. S'pose next thing the reformers will permit the boxers to become peeved.

Guy Morton, veteran pitcher, is the dean of the Cleveland Indian squad since the trading of Steve O'Neill to the Red Sox recently. O'Neill joined the Indians in 1911. All other members of the team that season and those who wore the Indian uniform the next two campaigns have departed. Morton, who made his debut in 1914, therefore is the daddy of the outfit.

Morton joined the Indians with a reputaton for control. Lee Fohl who turned him out while managing the Waterbury club in the Eastern league, said he could hit a postage stamp nine throws out of ten, or something like that and Guy lived up to expectations for a time. Then lack of condition, desire to pitch or something else dragged him from the ranks of the regulars.

The year the Indians won the pennant—1920—Morton figured little in the club's climb. In 1922 he showed signs of coming back, hanging up 14 victories and losing but nine games. But last year he lost all semblance of control, blew easily and was little short of worthless. This year will be his last with the club unless he gets going.

On the other hand we have Johnny Noye, St. Paul lightweight boxer. A few years ago Noye appeared to have the makings of a champ. Maybe he had the stuff but lacked proper handling. Be that as it may, Noye has announced his retirement from the ring following a poor exhibition against Joe Burke at St. Paul recently. Noye says he realizes that he is too old now to learn new tricks and therefore is only kidding himself and wasting his time by remaining in the game.

The year holds little that can interest us. We waited with bated breath for the outcome of the Wilson-Greb match. Now that that is over, what thrill can there be? Certainly the year will not see anything worse.

J. F. Hillerich, the pioneer bat manufacturer and maker of the famous "Louisville Slugger" bat, is dead. The interest in this item is that it calls most of us back to the "old days" when we would have given our eye teeth to have sported a "Lew-y-ville Slugger" bat. For one thing, the kid that owned one always got first rap. If he didn't the game was off.

One reason why the Cleveland Indians failed to be interested in the chance to recover the services of outfielder Elmer Smith when the Yanks cast him adrift is that Tris Speaker counts on young Homer Summa, former Western leaguer, to deliver with a bang in right field the coming season. Summa showed his mettle last fall. Spoke himself will roam center as per usual and Charley Jamieson will continue to star in left.

Yes, We Have No Alibi

Some attempt has been made to account for the defeat of the United States hockey team by the Canadians in the Olympic games by declaring that the result was the fruit of team work rather than individual brilliancy. This is as so much malarkey, according to the best informed sources.

The latter account for the American defeat as follows: 1. Inferiority in a man-to-man analysis of the two teams. 2. Inferiority in team work.

That would seem to cover the situation like a chattel mortgage.

Also, it is said that some of the best American "amateurs" were not members of the Olympic team; that these men deemed it more profitable to remain at home.

This, if true, rates not only the amateurism by the sportsmanship and patriotism of these worthies at somewhere less than nothing.

A New York critic is responsible for the statement that Charley Weissmuller, the swimmer, is in for a big year. Yes, and we can say the same thing for Charley McGraw and Charley Evers, well known baseball figures; Charles McCormack, the tenor; Charley Dundee, featherweight champion, and Johnny Paddock, the sprinter.

"A Babe in the Hand Is Worth Two in the Woods." Words and music by Miller Huggins.

Bedtime Story:

Once upon a time there were two wrestlers who did not battle three hours fifty-five minutes and eighteen seconds to a draw. They had to catch a train.

According to Clark Griffith, the celebrated squeeze play was invented impromptu, ad lib and on the spur of the moment by Jack Chesbro and Willie Keeler, both members of the Yankees while Griffith was manager of that club. It is supposed to have happened as follows:

Chesbro was on third base, Keeler at bat, and Addie Joss pitching. The base runner, obeying that impulse, started toward the plate with the wholly laudable idea of stealing home. Half way down the base line he realized he couldn't make it and shouted to Keeler to "lay it down."

Willie did and the runner scored, standing up.

"That was the first squeeze play," Griffith declared at the recent American League schedule meeting, while Chesbro, a member of the group, nodded agreement. "We pulled it for a month or more after that before any of the other clubs realized what a valuable scoring play it was and began to use it themselves."

"They were working the squeeze play before Griffith saw a major league ball park," says Joseph.

Hal Chase Again

The discredited Hal Chase was the greatest man the game ever knew on the bunting end of the play, in Griffith's estimation.

"We used to bet all kinds of money that no pitcher could throw a ball past Chase, provided he wanted to hit it and the ball could be reached," quoth Clark. "He could foul them off, even if you threw them under his arm pit. He would get his bat in there and 'tick' them, somehow.

"I saw him sign for the squeeze eight times in succession against such a great pitcher as Joss and get away with it. Addie knew he was signing for the play but he couldn't prevent Chase from protecting the runner with a foul tip.

"Then, on the ninth pitch, Chase hammered out a two-base hit."

It is noted that Battling Siki, the open-at-the-throat model from the African jungles, is a consistent loser as he descends the fistic ladder, rung by rung and bum by bum.

Perhaps he never amounted to anything, yet the fact remains that he was a world's champion twelve months ago and cannot hold his own with third raters now.

Tommy Gibbons hasn't fought in his home town of St. Paul since he boxed Jack Dempsey at the expense of half a dozen Montana bankers. Now it is planned to give the home folk a look at their "boy." And Tommy ought to look good to them. For the setup they have picked out for him is Fred Fulton, the world's champion—when it comes to deciding he has had enough.

Young Stribling's press agent says that prenatal influence had much to do with Stribling rising to prominence in the boxing game. Which is a new idea for a yarn, at least.

Hank O'Day is ready for another season at umpiring. This veteran big league arbiter has called 'em in the big show for something like 35 years. He started his baseball career as a pitcher for the old Giant outfit back in 1889. Then he donned the blue civvies and umped for years. One day, in an unguarded moment, he weakened and accepted the thankless job of managing the Cincinnati Reds. The fans treated him just like they have treated a score of other pilots in that town, and Hank was glad to get back to his old calling.

When it is pointed out that Hank was umpiring before most of the present day players were born one can readily see he is a glutton for punishment.

Will the barring of Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory from participation in the coming Olympic games cause the games committee to revise the rules to prevent a repetition of such an incident?

Mrs. Mallory is a native of Norway. Won her first fame as a tennis player there. In 1912 she represented that country in the Olympiad. Then America called her and she made this country her home, winning the national title repeatedly and representing the U. S. abroad with distinction. In the interim she married an American. Now the Olympic officials rule that because she represented Norway once she cannot now carry the United States colors, and because she married an American she becomes an American and therefore cannot wear the Norwegian colors in the classic.

Which makes her literally a woman without a country, as far as the Olympic games are concerned.

Ninety per cent of the pitchers trying to make good in the majors and in the minors, too, cannot pitch. They scarcely know the first thing about pitching." You have that on the authority of Iron Man Joe McGinnity, who pitched for thirty years and finally gave up at fifty-odd years. Which ought to give the opinions some weight.

The next football season's an awful long way off but Columbia students and grads are already wearing long faces and sad looks. For the dope comes from Bosting town that Percy Haughton, the Moses selected to lead the Columbia grid squad out of the bushes, will not return to that institution next fall. Percy signed a one-year contract a year ago and a new one hasn't been drawn up as yet.

Deny Villa Injured In Automobile Crash

SACRAMENTO, March 20. — Denial that Pancho Villa, world's flyweight boxing champion, had been injured in an automobile accident near Salinas, Cal., as reported yesterday from Long Beach, was made here today by Villa's manager. Despite the fact that a report was made to Salinas police that a Filipino boxer had been injured in the crash of two automobiles, the champion's manager emphatically denied that Villa had been hurt.

Villa will box here Friday night against Georgie Lee, Chinese pugilist, it is announced.

LOS ANGELES, March 20. — Tommy Milton famous racing pilot, Monday afternoon and Tuesday will attempt to shatter several records for the mile straight-away with his two Millers of 183 and 122 cubic inch piston displacement on the bed of Dry lake, near Muroc station, it was announced today. Fred Miller, builder of the racing cars, two mechanics and officials of the A. A. A. will accompany him and act as officials.

THEATRES

THE GLENDALE

"Hell's Hole," a William Fox production, with Charles Jones, Ruth Clifford and a strong supporting cast, directed by Emmett J. Flynn, from a story by George Scarborough, shows at the Glendale theatre today, Friday and Saturday.

The story has to do with Tod Musgrave (played by Charles Jones), to whom we are introduced as he sits disconsolately in one of those western cabarets where pulchritude reigns and where men fight for their loves at the bat of an eyelid.

"Hell's Hole" takes rank with the screen's most novel and thrilling photoplays. Charles Jones carries off the honors of the day with superb exhibition of trick roping and riding, endurance and vitality. The romance winding throughout the red-blooded action provides a lovely balance.

THE GATEWAY

"When a Man's a Man," First National adaptation of the noted Harold Bell Wright novel, featuring John Bowers, Marguerite de la Motte and George Hackathorne, shows at the Gateway theatre today, Friday and Saturday.

The main theme of the story is the rejuvenation of a man's soul, and this is accomplished. In the end of the picture we see Patches wave farewell to his friends and former sweetheart and disappear into the Arizona mountains with only the reformed cattle rustler for companionship.

It is the story of an indolent young clubman, who is suddenly brought to the realization of the futility of his life, when the girl of his heart turns him down.

In the end he finds a real purpose in life.

'PRE-SCHOOL AGE OF CHILD' THIRD TALK OF SERIES

Lecture Under Auspices of P.-T. A. Scheduled for Friday Morning

Miss Madeine Veverka, one of the foremost educators as well as one of the most interesting speakers in the educational field, wil speak tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock in the auditorium at 323 North Brand boulevard, to the Glendale women who are attending the lecture series under the auspices of the Glendale Federation, Parent-Teacher associations.

Miss Veverka will speak on "The Pre-School Age of the Child," a subject that will follow in harmonious sequence the preceding lectures on "Nutrition and Growth" and "The Period of Infancy."

Experienced Teacher

The educational experience of Miss Veverka has a wonderful background of study and training, for she is a graduate of the Teachers' College in Colorado and Columbia University, and has done work in the School of Education at the University of Chicago.

She has been a teacher in the elementary grades, in kindergarten and in a normal school, has served as county superintendent of schools and is at present supervisor of kindergarten and primary work in the Los Angeles city schools.

schools throughout California and with great satisfaction and success.

Deadly Monotony

Wavy blonde bobbed hair, a sweet smiling face, a neatly tailored red flannel sports dress with white collar and cuffs and black tie, and black hose and shoes, were enough to shatter Miss Lockwood's arguments, when Charlotte Busby, in her soft southern voice, told the mothers that uniform dress would be "deadly monotonous."

She cited Glendale as a city of moderate means and Glendale High school as a democratic institution, where the girls' dress was conservative and not in need of change.

When she had concluded her arguments and was questioned as to her real feelings in the matter, she truthfully admitted that, while a few days ago she had been a strong opponent of uniform dress, after a delegation of girls from South Pasadena, had visited Glendale High school to speak on their uniform dress ruling, she was converted.

Mrs. C. H. Whitney, president of the Parent-Teacher association, was in charge of the meeting. Mrs. P. O. Lucas served as secretary in the absence of Mrs. J. I. Wernette.

Play Nets $304

A report from the treasurer showed that the recent production of "Dulcy" had added $304 to the treasury and that at present there is $168 in the treasury. The students who took part in the play, the entire cast and assistants, are to go to Los Angeles tonight to be guests of the Parent-Teacher association at the production of "The Merchant of Venice."

Mrs. Whitney announced that she is to go to Covina April 15 to attend a reciprocity affair given by the Covina Union High school.

The endorsement of the Parent-Teacher association was given to the production of the oratorio "Elijah" next Tuesday night by the Glendale Music club.

For the program of the afternoon a roundtable had been arranged with Mrs. H. V. Henry as leader. Mrs Henry, who is a trained and experienced educator, chairman of the Mutnal Benefit Reading Circle and chairman of programs of the Glendale Federation, Parent-Teacher associations, is a most interesting speaker, and the women were delighted yesterday with her discussion of the "Physical, Mental and Moral Problems of the Adolescent Period."

"The problems facing high school parents with their children are due to two causes, the period of change through which high school children pass, and to poor training in the home," declared Mrs. Henry.

Her talk was full of valuable information for high school parents. When she had finished, the women present engaged in informal discussion.

Mrs. A. H. Brown has been chosen by the high school P.-T. A. to be a member of the nominating committee for officers for the Glendale Federation.

REALTORS CHANGE OFFICE LOCATION

Twining & Myers Take Larger Quarters as Business Resumes Activity

The change in offices from 227-A South Brand boulevard to 108 West Broadway was made today by Twining & Myers, realtors, who moved to the latter address, while J. F. Stanford, who has been occupying the West Broadway address, moved down on South Brand boulevard.

The move was made necessary for Twining & Myers on account of the program of expansion that they have undertaken in connection with their general real estate business and by the activity that has already manifested itself in their three sub-divisions, Woodland Park, Mesa Crest and Burton Heights, all of which, Mr. Twining declares, are indicating a revived interest on the part of home seekers and investors for property of the class embraced in these properties.

Mr. Twining will devote his attention almost entirely to the subdivision side of the business, while L. H. Myers will be in charge of the general run of insurance, rentals, residences, etc., and each of these departments will be headed by an expert in his particular line.

Shows Beauties of Hawaii In Lecture

Franklin Skinner, principal of one of the leading junior high schools in the Hawaiian Islands, gave an illustrated lecture at Occidental college yesterday morning on "A Trip Through the Hawaiian Islands." Mr. Skinner told in a very entertaining and interesting manner of the country and its characteristics. He showed colored slides of the important points of interest and related many incidents regarding the natives and their land. Some splendid natural colored pictures of the volcanoes were presented.

A special exhibit of abnormal growths taken from trunks, branches and roots of trees and shrubs is permanently in Museum IV, at Kew Gardens, England.

Banker, Shivers Amid Snow And Slush; Longs for Glendale Again

O. W. Bartlett, vice-president of the National Bank of the Republic of Chicago, who was here last summer and who invested a large amount of money in Glendale realty before returning to his home, has written to H. S. McCormack, 125 West Broadway, under whose wing he traveled while here, comparing the weather back in the Windy City with that of Glendale, Mr. Bartlett writes:

"Naturally your Chicago banker friend can't do any bragging about the beautiful sunshiny spring days we ain't having, nor is it necessary to rave over the beautiful slush, snow, rain and ice that is about us in gobs from one to six feet deep, but he can smile and say nice things about California because the Calorine is working.

Mental Sunshine

"Continue to send us the papers. You can't make us mad, but Oh, Gee, it's rotten weather here, makes us yearn for the time when we can pull up stakes and hit the Calorine trail, but we can at least bask in the mental sunshine of the days to come."

Mr. Bartlett encloses a clipping from a Chicago paper describing the recent cold wave back there, when coal bins were empty and when the zero weather took a heavy toll of life, and he adds, "Why go to California when you can enjoy freezing to death in Chicago,"

Circus Stars Get No Rest In Winter

the—, yes, you've guessed it; none but wild animals were used and their trainers assisted the movie directors.

When the big film companies begin releasing some of the latest spectacular pictures this season you'll recognize the Barnes' movie actors. The animals last winter covered themselves with glory, for the studio folks were saved faking by the ability of the beasts to do what was wanted.

For instance, if the script called for thirty tigers or forty lions to make a leap off a cliff, the Barnes trainers indicated to the beasts the stunt and they did it. Hollywood movie directors were astonished at the almost impossible things accomplished by the beasts.

But there's one thing the animal movie actors simply hate—and that is the wind machine. It keeps them busy picking sawdust out of their eyes and makes them sneeze.

"The life of a movie actor is not all peaches and cream," they aver, "and we're certainly glad to get back to circus work."

a historic gown which had been worn by the actress, Mrs. Maggie Holloway Fisher, over thirty years ago, while playing "Mrs. Micawber" in "David Copperfield," and nearly every article of attire worn by these members was an heirloom and had a most interesting story.

Just previous to the program, led by Mrs. Daniels, the speaker of the afternoon, in a flowered gown with bonnet and shawl of the 1839 period, the members in costume passed in review before the guests giving them opportunity to observe the costumes more closely.

With most gracious words of welcome Mrs. Wilcox gave as the keynote of the afternoon "friendliness," and opportunity was afforded each guest to shake hands cordially with her neighbor. Mrs. Wilcox presented Mrs. Geo. H. Rowe chairman of the history and landmarks committee, who, in turn, presented the speakers of the afternoon.

Mrs. Herbert Duke Fortier told the romance of the San Fernando valley under the title of "The Daughters of the Snows." Mrs. H. S. Garlinghouse related a legend of Eagle Rock and Mrs. Edgar Leavitt told "How Glendale Was Named."

Original Manuscript

Mrs. Geo. Daniels, of the Shakespeare club, Pasadena, presented her subject, "The Days of Forty-Nine," in the form of a manuscript, as yet unpublished, which is the story of a resident of El Monte who was a member of a pioneer family who crossed the plains after the discovery of gold by Marshall in 1848 and the story of that other pioneer Sutter. At her request, Mrs. Wilcox read Joaquin Miller's poem, "The Days of Forty-nine."

Mrs. Edwin A. Knapp, also of Pasadena, attired in a green silk lustre fringe-trimmed costume, with hand-made lace front, which had been in her family since 1839 closed the program with a pianologue, "The Covered Wagon," composed by herself after seeing the picture by that name. To those who had seen that picture the composition brought back very vividly the stirring scene. Mrs. Knapp also gave a clever original composition on King Tut as an interlude in the reading of the manuscript by Mrs. Daniels.

An interesting fact developed during the afternoon when it was learned that Mrs. Holmes, who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Gledhill of 126 South Cedar street, was a guest of the afternoon and is a descendant of the pioneer, Sutter. She was attired in black lace costume, an heirloom, of the same pattern as the shawl worn by the speaker.

Refreshments in keeping with the day were served, ginger bread, caraway cookies and green tea, by the members in costume.

PUPILS TO STAGE 4-ACT OPERETTA

'Hansel and Gretel' Chosen By Colorado St. Students For P.-T. A. Benefit

"Hansel and Gretel," an operetta in four acts, is to be presented by the pupils of Colorado street school, Saturday, March 22, in the auditorium of the Glendale Avenue school. There will be a matinee performance at 2 o'clock and a second performance at 7:30 in the evening.

Leading parts of "Hansel and Gretel" will be taken by Fred Paseman and Elnora Melgreen, pupils of the fifth grade, of which Miss Muriel Wilson is teacher. Katherine Girard will impersonate the "witch."

Fifty In Cast

Approximately fifty children are in the cast, and members of the faculty have directed rehearsals and the preparations for staging the coming event.

The kindergarten orchestra of Colorado school, and an orchestra made up from other city schools under the direction of Miss Elsa Brennaman, will furnish special music numbers between acts, varied with dancing numbers by talented children.

The pupils will also have homemade candy for sale, which will be in charge of the mothers. The affair is given for the benefit of the Colorado street Parent-Teachers' association.

Santa Barbara Supervisors Re-enact Old Law Paying Bounty

SANTA BARBARA, Mar. 20.—At its next regular meeting the county board of supervisors will reenact its old coyote bounty law so that every hunter may have an incentive to help rid the county of the pest to calves, hogs and sheep.

The old plan of paying a bounty on all coyote scalps will be reverted to because the State has defaulted in its contract with the county to fight the coyote with paid hunters, the county, and the state sharing in the expenses.

At the special meeting of the board it was reported that the state had broken this contract. The result of the break is to leave the county with $1289 to pay for this mode of warfare against the county while, so far as can be learned, the state paid only $722 toward the local fight.

In the notice of withdrawal from the contract sent to the state the supervisors say:

"The whole thing has been very disagreeable and uphill work all the way through."

"We will have something to tell the state representatives the next time they come before this board."

GUILTY ON BOTH COUNTS, VERDICT

Muskinno to Appeal Court's Decision In Assault, Speed Charges

Sam Muskinno of East Lomita avenue was found guilty of reckless driving and assault and battery yesterday by a jury in Judge F. H. Lowe's court.

The action resulted from an automobile accident on San Fernando road December 8, 1923, when a truck driven by the defendant and another belonging to L. E. Kellogg of 2010 Glenwood road collided. Following the crash, Muskinno was charged with "taking a punch" at Kellogg during the argument which ensued.

He had pleaded not guilty on both counts. Judge Lowe fined him $100 on each count, or in default of payment, 60 days in the county jail on each charge. He immediately filed notice of appeal through his attorney, C. W. Frasier.

The jury was composed of William G. Gregory, 404 North Myrtle street, foreman; Clement L. V. Moore, 360 West California avenue; Mrs. Elsie C. Lockwood, 725 North Louise street; Clarence J. Newcomb, 124 North Everett street; John B. Moule, 207 North Kenwood street; Mrs. Louisa Witter, 1121 East Wilson street; Clyde L. Torrey, 226 North Verdugo road; Mrs. Carrie Vorwerk, 715 North Maryland avenue; George B. Pratt, 356 West Myrtle street; John E. Aycock, 104 North Belmont street; Mrs. Myrtle C. Miller, 715 North Kenwood street and Fred N. Chandler, 11 North Glendale avenue.

City Prosecutor Leslie R. Tarr conducted the prosecution.

Dramatic Society to Present Four Plays

The Arden Dramatic society of Occidental college is to present its annual productions, the Arden plays, in the Franklin High school auditorium, tomorrow night, Friday, March 21, at 8.15 o'clock. Four thrilling one-act comedies are to be produced. They are all new and out of the ordinary. The group of productions is "Where the Cross Is Made," "The Man in the Bowler Hat," "A Night at an Inn" and "For Distinguished Service."

The custom in the past has been to give one four-act drama, but the members of the society decided that four snappy skits would be more satisfactory. Every active member of the club is taking part in at least one play. The members of Arden are working hard to make this program a success. Arthur Lubin, famous actor, is directing the production, and it promises to be one of the biggest events of the year.

The list of characters includes Jerome Lindquist, Virna Ruth, Chubby Creighton, Maynard Munger, Margaret Wallace, Florence Stevens, Carl Lindquist, Herb Hamilton, Paul Perkins, Howard Harper,, Burdette Daniels, Jack Lawson, Jack Cosgrove, Anna Morsey, Grace Smith and Hazel Garrison.

Registration Records Intact, Says Mrs. Dell

Mrs. M. E. Dell, deputy registrar of voters, states, in order to relieve the minds of all voters who have registered for voting with her, that positively she has lost no books of registration. Mrs. Dell calls the attention of all voters to the fact that at midnight on April 5 the chance to register for the May 6 primary elections expires.

Amid the sighs of the feminine members of the audience and the rapt attention of the masculine element, the master of ceremonies introduced Anita Stewart, Priscilla Dean, both stars of the first magnitude. He said they believed that movie stars should be seen and not heard. They merely made their bows and retired like good little girls.

Jekyll-Hyde Scene

In what was probably the finest bit of character impersonation ever witnessed in Glendale, Sheldon Lewis made a hit with two scenes from Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. Especially in the second scene when the ravings of a drug-crazed mind prompted Mr. Hyde to confess to the murder, was he extraordinary. This work had been pronounced by the Ne York critics as one of the fine bits of acting ever presented the metropolitan stage. Tho present last night evidently co curred in their opinion.
